FIFTH PENNSYLVANIA.

JAN. 1, 1777—JAN. 1, 1783. (a)

THE FIFTH PENNSYLVANIA. (a.)

By the re-enlistment, to a large extent, of the Fourth battalion, Col. Wayne's, under the old officers, the Fifth Penn'a was formed. But two returns of this regiment have been found. One of August 14, 1777, gives the number of field and staff officers thirty-nine, and three hundred and thirty-three non-commissioned officers and privates present fit for duty; seventeen sick present; fifty-seven sick absent; fifty-seven on command; two prisoners of war; forty-seven dead; nine discharged; ten claimed; one hundred and eighty-nine deserters. Total recruited, seven hundred and thirteen; mustered, six hundred and fifty-three; brought into the field four hundred and seventy-nine. Vacancies: One first lieutenant, one second lieutenant, and three ensigns. The other return, dated November 3, 1777, makes the field and staff number twenty-one; sergeants, sixteen; drummers and fifers, fourteen; privates present fit for duty, one hundred and twenty-seven; sick present, twenty-three; sick absent, sixty-eight; on command, fifty-six; on furlough, two; total, two hundred and seventy-five. Three deserted, and two prisoners of war. Lieut. Col. Frazer reported a prisoner Major Robinson absent wounded; Capt. Potts a prisoner; Lieut. McCullough and Ensign Pugh absent wounded; Lieut. Martin on command with Col. Morgan; Lieuts. Forbes and Stanley sick absent.

From camp at "Tapan, August 21, 1780," Col. Francis Johnston writes to "His Excellency Joseph Reed, Esq., President of Pennsylvania," as follows:

"Sir: I beg leave to inform your Excellency that Major Church, of the 4 Penn'a Regt., in consequence of Lt. Colonel Connor's death, is entitled to be promoted a Lieut. Colonel in his stead in the 6th Regiment, from which Lt. Col. Harmar was lately taken as Commandant of the 7th.

"It has not yet been fully ascertained whether Lt. Col. Connor is really dead, but it is generally believed, and I fear with too good grounds. However, 'tis probable your Excell'y by this time may know with certainty the truth of this fact.

"Should it be so, I should be glad Major Church may have his promotion as early as your Excell'y can with convenience.

However, I suppose Genl. St. Clair has written your Excell'y on this subject.

"I have the honor to be your Excell'y most obt. servant,

"F. JOHNSTON."

Lieut. Col. Mentges to Supreme Executive Council:

Camp, the 14 feb., 1780.

"Honored Gentlemen: Cap. Job Vernon and Capt. Lieut. John Barclay having made application to me for their commissions, I beg leave to transmit to your Honorable Board the right they have to promotion, viz: Cap. Michael Ryan, of the 5th Reg. resigned the 15th June, 1779. Capt. Lt. Job Vernon to succeed to promotion of a Capt. Lt. John Barclay to succeed Capt. Lt. Vernon to Capt. Lieut. of the same date. Lieut. Andew Lytle, of the same regiment, unfortunately lost his commission. I would be glad if the Hon. Coun. would grant him another, dated the 20 January, 1777. I am in hopes you will grant this request, and I am, with the highest esteem,

"You ob't Ser't,

"F. MENTGES,

"Lt. Col. Com'd 5 Regt."

After the Revolt of the Line, the Fifth and Ninth regiments were ordered to Reading, in order to have their depreciation settled by the auditors.

Under the arrangement of January 17, 1781, Col. Johnston retired. After the promotion of Col. Wayne, he had succeeded to the command of the regiment, and was present with it at Brandywine, Germantown, Monmouth and Stony Point. He was appointed, April 9, 1781, Receiver General of the State, and elected High Sheriff of the city and county of Philadelphia October 25, 1810, where he died on the 22d of February, 1815, in his sixty-seventh year.

Col. Johnston was succeeded by Col. Richard Butler, who commanded it during the campaign under Gen. Wayne in the South. Butler was lieutenant colonel of the rifle regiment commanded by Col. Morgan, which was made up of picked men detached from the several regiments of the Pennsylvania, Maryland, and Virginia Lines, and distinguished himself very much at Saratoga. Of his career in the South, the following letter to Gen. William Irvine gives some incidents.

Col. Richard Butler to Gen. William Irvine.

Quarters, 8th July, 1781.

Dear General: I hope you'll not charge my silence to Taciturnity or neglect, when I assure you it is neither. I would have wrote you had any op'ty hapen'd since I could collect subject to write on, & although I Essay it now, I can't boast much either to please or amuse you.

"After a fatigueing march, prosecuted with bad weather, we join'd the Marquiss, the 10th of June; about this time L'd Cornwallis was really sporting through the country without opposition. The very name of a dragoon had such influence on the minds of (not only) country people, but the troops of the army, that few dar'd to approach them; the consequence of which was very bad Intelligence. Charlottsville was sack'd without a shot, and every kind of depredation committed with Impunity, the people seem'd Scar'd to Death, and nothing but dispondency & resignation appear'd in their countinances. Indeed, they seem'd quite prepar'd for the yoke; however, our junction gave a zest to business, and things began to wear a new face. Cornwallis turn'd about on hearing of our arrival, & the Exaggerated Acc'ts of our force added to his anxiety in return, & he mov'd back with a little more Caution than he Advanc'd. The militia was now call'd, Provissions collected, & on the 14th we mov'd toward Richmond. The people from the back country join'd us in considerable numbers, & are really good troops. On the 24th, I was sent out with a small Advanc'd light Corps, to try to strike the Brittish rear; after three days and nights successive march I got up with Simcoe; I gave him a handsome stroke, with little loss myself; we kill'd about 50, and some officers, took a few prisoners, a good many dragoon horses & furniture, with a number of Cattle belonging to the Inhabitants; but being but 8 miles from Williamsburg and their whole force, could not think of running a greater risque; and want of sleep, threw me into a violent fever & Diaroehea, which had like to have taken me off, but am now perfectly restor'd, and shall join the Army to-morrow. I cannot acc't for the Enemy's movements; they have lain since the 26th, at and below Williamsburg, and yesterday mov'd to Jamestown, but a few miles from there;

our troops mov'd down near town, but return'd 8 miles again the same day. The Army is generally healthy, though they undergo much fatigue; the Country here is poor and sandy, the weather intensely hot, & the water but middling; our provis'n is tollerably good, and the troops get some apple-brandy, which I think is of service to them; these are the things I know your humanity & good wishes for a Soldier Interests you in, I therefore take pleasure in informing you I find we shall be at a great loss for shoes, overalls & shirts in a little time; indeed, many of the men are now barefoot, owing to the heat of the sand, which burns the leather, & is insupportable to the bare foot; the swet, and want of soap & opportunity to wash, destroys the linen so that the men will be naked if they don't get a supply soon. I think it proper to give you Information, in order that you may make timely application, & if possible, forward them by some officer; if you succeed, my paymaster, Lt. Lytle, may ans'r the Purpose.

"My Battall'n is now very small, the Companies not being quite full at first, & considerable desertion and sickness since. I have, therefore wrote Col. Mentges to send on what he can Collect, with some fifers, & A number of spare fifes for the line—I think about 30 will do. I must request of you, my dear Gen'l, to have them push'd on as fast as possible, as I think that assistance will be wanting, in case the Earl plays the cunning game & lays by till our militia is dispers'd by the calls of their harvest, (which is now in), other Necessitys, and a push, when weak, may oblige us to move backwards, which I would not like.

"I conclude, with assuring you that I am, with every sentiment of Friendship and respect, Dear Sir, your most Obed't & very Hub. St.,

"RICH'D BUTLER,
"Col. 5 P. Regt."

Col. Butler was second in command to Gen. St. Clair, and fell in the battle of November 4, 1791, which terminated in the defeat of St. Clair's army. He had four brothers, noted officers in the Pennsylvania Line, Col. William, Major Thomas, Lieut. Percival, and Capt. Edward; the two latter were with him at St. Clair's defeat.

Of Lieutenant Colonel Persifor Frazer, we have this data: He was the son of John Frazer, of Scotland, who came to America in 1735, born near Newtown Square, Chester county, August 10, 1736. He became a merchant, and was a partner of the iron works at Oxford, and afterward in the Sarum forge. He was a member of the Provincial convention which, in January, 1765, protested against the further importation of negro slaves; a signer to the non-importation resolutions of the 25th of October that year, and a delegate to the Provincial conference of January 18, 1775. He raised and commanded the first company of the Fourth battalion, Col. Wayne, commissioned January 5, 1776, and was appointed major by Gen. Gates at Ticonderoga, September 24, 1776. Upon the organization of the Fifth regiment of the Continental Line, he was commissioned lieutenant colonel, to rank from October 4, 1776. He was taken prisoner September 12, 1777, and held in Philadelphia until his escape in March, 1778. He rejoined his regument, and was present at the battle of Monmouth; but offended on account of some promotions over him during his captivity, he resigned October 9, 1778. He subsequently held different military positions, but never went into service in the field. At the time of his death, April 24, 1792, he was register of wills and recorder of deeds for Chester county. Col. Frazer married, October 27, 1766, Mary Worrall Taylor, who survived him many years. Gen. Persifor F. Smith, U. S. A., Prof. John Frazer, of the University of Pennsylvania, and P. Frazer Smith, reported of the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania, were grandsons of Col. Frazer.

SIXTH PENNSYLVANIA.

JAN. 1, 1777—JAN. 1, 1783. (a)

SIXTH PENNSYLVANIA REGIMENT. (a.)

Materials for a historical sketch of this regiment are scant, no general returns of the numbers of rank and file, or correspondence throwing light upon it, having been found. It was organized on the basis of Col. Magaw's Fifth battalion, but that was captured, with all its records, in the disaster of Fort Washington, November 16, 1776. Col. Magaw remained a prisoner, Lieut. Col. Henry Bicker commanding until he was succeeded by Lieut. Col. Josiah Harmar, Who commanded the regiment during the most of its military career.

The Sixth regiment, with the Third, Ninth, and Twelfth, was attached to a division composed chiefly of Jersey troops. Of the brigade, see letter of Capt. Thomas B. Bowen, of the Ninth; and Capt. James Chrystie, of the Third, in a memorial to the Executive Council, dated Lancaster, February 3, 1778, Pennsylvania Archives, second series, third volume, 170—171.

The following is a memorandum "of sundry officers made supernumerary by an arrangement which took place in the year 1778;" also, to what time each officer was paid for actual service:

John McGowan, captain, June 21, 1778, $480.
Walter Cruise, captain, June 21, 1778, $480.
Jacob Moser, captain, September 1, 1778, $480.
Luke Brodhead, captain, June 21, 1778, $480.
James Waugh, captain, June 21, 1778, $480.
John Savidge, captain, September 7, 1778, $480.
Archibald Campbell, lieutenant, September 1, 1778, $320.
Greenbury Hughes, lieutenant, June 21, 1778, $320.
John Foster, ensign, June 21, 1778, $240.
Philip Snider, ensign, June 21, 1778, $240.
William Baxter, ensign, June 21, 1778, $240.
Enoch Morgan, paymaster, June 21, 1778, $480.

"Germantown, October 4, 1785.

"I certify that the above is a true extract from the pay rolls of the Sixth Pennsylvania Regiment, which are yet in my possession.

"THOMAS DUNGAN,
"Formerly Paymaster to the above named Regiment."

Col. Henry Bicker, in 1755, was lieutenant of a Jersey regiment; was promoted captain in 1756; captured, and remained a prisoner in Canada fourteen months; after his return he acted as quartermaster of Gen. Gage's regiment until the close of the French-Indian war; his history subsequent to his retirement, in 1778, cannot be traced.

Capt. Luke Brodhead belonged originally to Miles' regiment, and was captured on Long Island; after his return from captivity, he joined the Sixth, and participated in the actions at Short Hill, Brandywine, and Germantown; his health, impaired by captivity and wounds received at Long Island, compelled him to quit the service June 21, 1778; he died at Stroudsburg, June 19, 1806.

Of Lieut. James Gibbon, all accounts of the storming of Stony Point give him distinguished notice; he was promoted captain by brevet for his gallant conduct; he led the left forlorn hope composed of twenty men, losing seventeen killed and wounded; he is mentioned in Gen. Wayne's letter, and was voted the thanks of Congress; he died at Richmond, Virginia, at which city he was collector, in June, 1835, aged seventy-seven. His son, James, an officer in the United States navy, perished in the burning of the Richmond theatre, in December, 1811.

Capt. Jacob Humphreys was born in Bucks county, 1751. Engaged in the battles of Trenton, Princeton, Brandywine, Germantown, and Yorktown; served in the Southern campaign; mustered out at Philadelphia, in First Penn'a, in 1783; he resided in West Fallowfield, Chester county; elected to the Legislature in 1814-15; and in July, 1825, was one of the county committee to receive Gen. Lafayette; he died January 21, 1826, aged seventy-five.—Letter of Hon. J. Smith Futhey.

"Camp West Point, August 25, 1779.

"Sir: By the resolve of Congress, 28 June last, I observe that whenever vacancies happen in a regiment, the commanding officer is to notify the President of the State that proper persons may be appointed, I must, therefore, beg leave to inform your Excellency of two Vacancies in the Sixth Pennsylvania Regiment, and at the same time to recommend Mr. Dixon and Mr. Humphries to be appointed as ensigns. The former is my sergeant-major, a person of good morals, and as brave as Caesar. The latter has been a volunteer in Major Lee's corps. The major has strongly recommended him to me as a person of unblemished character.

"PROMOTIONS.

"1st Lieut. Isaac Vanhorne to be captain Lieut., vice Lieut. William McElhatton, resigned July 1, 1779.

"2d Lieut. John Markland to be 1st Lieut., vice Lt. Isaac Vanhorne, promoted July 1, 1779.

"APPOINTMENTS.

"Sergeant Major Sankey Dixon, to be Ensign, September 1, 1779.

"Mr. John Humphreys, Volunteer, to be Ensign, September 2, 1779. The above is the order I would wish to be observed, and permit me to assure you, sir, that I am, with every mark of respect, your Excelly's Most humble & obt. Sert.,

"JOSIAH HARMAR,

CONTINENTAL LINE.

SEVENTH PENNSYLVANIA.

JAN. 1, 1777—JAN. 17, 1781. (a)

SEVENTH PENNSYLVANIA REGIMENT. (a.)

The Seventh Penn'a regiment was organized by the re-enlistment of Col. William Irvine's Sixth battalion. Col. Irvine remained a prisoner on parole until April, 1778, when he was exchanged, and the following year promoted brigadier general, and assigned to the Second brigade, which he continued to command until the fall of 1781, when he was detached to Pittsburgh, and charged with the defense of the northwestern frontier. Lieut. Col. Hartley was appointed by Gen. Washington, in January, 1777, to command one of the additional regiments, and, by the arrangement of March 12, 1777, Major David Grier became lieutenant colonel, and had charge of the regiment until Col. Irvine's exchange. On Col. Irvine's promotion, Lieut. Col. Morgan Conner, of Hartley's additional regiment, was assigned to the command, with the rank of lieutenant colonel commandant (see note to Hartley's regiment).

It appears, by Lieut. Col. Grier's letter postea, that the Sixth battalion, now Seventh regiment, only returned to Carlisle from Ticonderoga in March, 1777, and, on the 9th of March, he returns to the Council of Safety the following, as a true list of the officers as they now are in said regiment, with the remarks appended, which his letter explains:

LIST, &C., OF THE OFFICERS OF THE SEVENTH PENN'A REGIMENT.

Gamble, James.

On March 15, 1777, Lieut. Col. David Grier writes to the Board of War:

"I would just inform the Honb. Board that I have made enquiry of some of the officers formerly in the 2nd Penn. Regm't, men of probity and honour, that notwithstanding the recommendation in Mr. Allison's favor (which I doubt not the Hon'ble Board have had), he was not agreeable to the officers of the same corps; that they believe him a good man but not a good officer; has no military ambition or knowledge, and I understand from himself that the reasons for his resignation were because younger officers were advanced over him, which is always a hint to leave the service. I would also mention that those men mentioned by me, not fit to rise, in the 7th Regt., were good men, good members of Society, inoffensive to the other officers, and yet not thought good officers in comparison to the rest of the regiment, tho', in my opinion, much preferable to this gentleman; and as our officers and men are just come to Carlisle from Ticonderoga, they would think it hard to have a man of that character put into their regiment. I would just inform the Board that I have had messages from three genteel young men, of good families, requesting appointment in this regiment, and expect to have it in my power, before next Monday, to be able to fill up all the vacancies, provided the Hon'ble Board will give that indulgence.

"P. S. I have had no opportunity to consult the officers of the regiment since the first intimation from the Hon'ble Board, of leaving out those officers, prisoners."

On the 17th, he encloses to the board of war a list (which cannot be found) of names for appointment in the regiment which he says "he is confident will give general satisfaction, and be a great inducement to the men who have been discharged to re-enlist; all the new officers mentioned, unless those opposite the crotchet, were with us in Canada; are young men of good family and most of them men of property; have behaved well in every instance while in service, and have great influence in the neighborhoods where they reside, &c. I lodge at the Indian Queen, and should be glad to know the result of the Hon'ble Board."

The subsequent roster indicates that his recommendations were probably adopted, the promotions to captains being entirely from the old battalion, dropping the captive officers.

A return, dated "Camp at Middlebrook, June 17, 1777," signed by Lt. Col. Grier, gives the state of the regiment as follows: one lieutenant colonel, one major, eight captains, fifteen lieutenants, eight ensigns, one surgeon, no mate, adjutant, quartermaster, and paymaster; four hundred and twenty-five men enlisted during the war, or three years; two hundred and twenty of which are present, fit for duty in camp; forty-one sick, in camp; forty-two sick, absent; six on furlough; two discharged; sixty deserted; fourteen dead; one absent without leave; nineteen recruiting; twenty in dispute with Col. Hartley; a captain, seven lieutenants, and five ensigns are recruiting in the back counties.

The following, dated "Camp at Trappe, Sept. 29, 1777," from Major Hay to Col. William Irvine, relating to the Paoli night attack, is furnished by Dr. W. A. Irvine, of Warren county, grand-son of Col. Irvine:

"Dear Colonel: Since I had the pleasure of seeing you, the Division under the command of General Wayne has been surprised by the enemy, with considerable loss. We were ordered by his Excellency to march from Yellow Springs, down to where the Enemy lay, near the Admiral Warren, thereto annoy their rear. We marched early on the 17th instant, and got below the Paoli that night. On the next day fixed on a place for our camp. We lay the 18th and 19th undisturbed, but, on the 20th, at 12 o'clock at night, the Enemy marched out, and so unguarded was our Camp that they were amongst us before we either formed in any manner for our safety, or attempted to retreat, notwithstanding the General had full intelligence of their designs two hours before they came out. I will inform you in a few words of what happened. The annals of the age cannot produce such a scene of butchery. All was confusion. The enemy amongst us, and your regiment the most exposed, as the Enemy came on the right wing. The 1st Regiment (which always takes the right) was taken off, and posted in a strip of woods, stood only one fire, and retreated. Then we were next the Enemy, and, as we were amongst our fires, they had great advantage of us. I need not go on to give the particulars, but the Enemy rushed on, with fixed bayonets, and made the use of them they intended. So you may figure to yourself what followed. The party lost 300 Privates in killed, wounded and missing, besides commissioned and non-commissioned officers. Our loss is Col. Grier, Captain Wilson, and Lieutenant Irvine* wounded (but none of them dangerously),

*Capt. Andrew Irvine received seventeen bayonet wounds in all, one of which penetrated through his company books, which, in the confusion, he had taken up, and thrust into the breast-pocket of his coat to carry off. He never entirely recovered, but died soon after the close of the war from the effects of these wounds.

and 61 non-comm'd and privates killed and wounded, which was just half the men we had on the ground fit for duty. The 22d, I went to the ground to see the wounded. The scene was shocking—the poor men groaning under their wounds, which were all by stabs of Bayonets, and cuts of Light-horsemen's swords. Col. Grier is wounded in the side by a bayonet, superficially slanting to the breast bone. Captain Wilson stabbed in the side, but not dangerous, as it did not take the guts or belly. He got also a bad stroke on the head with the cock nail of the locks of a musket. Andrew Irvine was ran through the fleshy part of the thigh with a bayonet. They are all laying near David Jones' tavern. I left Capt'n McDowell with them to dress and take care of them, and they are all in a fair way of recovery. Major La Mar, of the 4th Regiment, was killed, and some other inferior officers. The Enemy lost Captain Wolf, killed, and four or five Light-horsemen, and about 20 privates, besides a number wounded. The General officers have been in Council for three days, and the plan is fixed, but what it is we do not yet know. Inclosed you have the state of the British Army, with their loss at Brandywine. You have it as I have it, and may judge of it as you think proper.

"You will see by this imperfect scrawl how many sorts of Ink I have written with—all borrowed—and the Ink-stand's dry, as I nave no Bagage, nor have had any this four weeks, more than one shirt and one pair of stockings, besides what is on my back. The other officers are in the same way, and most of the officers belonging to the Division have lost their Bagage at Col. Frazer's, taken by the Enemy. I have nothing new to Inform you of. My compliments to Mrs. Irvine and Mrs. Armstrong. Let her know the Gen'l (Armstrong) is very well, and lodges near our camp.

"I am, with great respect, yours affectionately,

"SAMUEL HAY."

A return, signed by Jeremiah Talbot, captain commanding the Seventh, dated November 1, 1777, subsequent to the actions of Brandywine, Paoli, and Germantown, reports four captains, Talbot, William and John Alexander, and Parker, present, with three lieutenants, six ensigns, adjutant, quarter-master, paymaster, surgeon, ten sergeants, six drums and fifes, eighty-nine privates fit for duty, seventeen sick, present, sixty-three sick, absent, eighteen on command, seven wagoners, five pioneers; Lt. Col. Grier, two captains, four lieutenants wounded; one lieutenant and eighteen rank and file with the light infantry; two with the wounded officers.

Under date of "York-Town 8th Dec'r, 1777," Lt. Col. Grier writes to Col. Irvine, in regard to the rank of the officers of the Line:

"D'r Col.: Since you were here I had sent me by Maj'r Hay, the following list & arrangement of the Penn'a field Officers as agreed on by a Board of Gen'l Officers, & Confirmed by Congress. The resolve of Congress is as follows, viz: That Congress Agree to the Principle adopted by the said Board, in Settling the relative rank or Precedence of the Officers, According to the Standing they held in the Army immediately before their Present Commissions (except where Promotion is had on a Principle of Merit only). And that the arrangement made by the said Board, with Respect to the Relative rank of the Principle field Officers, be and is hereby Confirmed. That the Commissions heretofore Granted, are hereby Vacated; that said Commissions be delivered to Gen'l Washington, & new ones made out, & by him del'd to the officers Respectively, with the dates annexed, to their Respective names, as follows:

Col's Rank.

1. Magaw, Jan. 3d, 1776.
2. Irvine, Jan. 9, 1776.
3. Cadwallader, 7 Sept.
4. Johnson, 27th.
5. Chambers, 28.
6. Brodhead, 29.
7. Wood, 30.
8. Humpton, Oct'r 1.
9. Cook, Oct'r 2.

Lt. Col's dates.

1. Nagel, 21st Aug't, 1776.
2. Bicker, 22d Aug't, 1776.
3. Ross, 27th Aug't, 1776.
4. R. Butler, 28th Aug't, 1776.
5. Craig, 29.
6. Wm. Butler, 30.
7. Frazer, 1th Oct'r.
8. Grier, 2d Oct'r.
9. Gurney, 3d Oct'r.
10. Hubley, 4th Oct'r.
11. Gray, 5th Oct'r.

Majors.

1. Smith, Sept'r 27, 1776.
2. Miller, Sept'r 28.
3. Williams, Sept'r 29.
4. Lamar, 30.
5. Harmar, Oct'r 1.

8. Bayard, 4.
9. Hay, 5.
10. North, 6.
11. Mentges, 7.
12. Crawford, 8.

"Now, you will see by the above Arrangement, that Notwithstanding my Com'n as Maj'r & Lt. Col. were Older than either of the five now before me, viz: Ross, R. Butler, Craig, Wm. Butler, & Frazer, & altho' contrary to the mode, by the said Board adopted, yet my new Com'n is to be of a Younger date. I was a Major long before either of those ment'd, which was the standing we held immediately before our Present Com'ns; I, therefore, am determined, as I have not got the Benefit of their own mode, to quit the service as soon as I can settle my acc't. I have spoke to the Members of Congress several times about the Prisoners of War, & they told me that very little could now be done, as a Committee of Congress were gone to head Qu'rs, but as soon as they Returned something would be done. As I am now stating my Acc'ts in Order to settle them, I see at the Bottom of your Gen'l acc't two hundred & thirty Dollars added, without say'g to whom del'd; & you ment'n, at the foot, 200 Dollars, by you draw'd last Feb. 7, of w'h you say Maj'r Hay Has an acc't; he never gave me any such acc't; yourself give me rec'ts of one thousand Dollars, draw'd at Philad'a, & delivered the different officers; but the other two thousand I never heard of until I Rec'd your last acc't; if you can find any acc't of that two thousand, would be obliged to you to send it me, as also that 230, & who Rec'd it. My wound is quit skin'd over, but I find, on Riding, that the Parts about the wound swells, inflames, & Gets very Painful; I fear it has been let close too soon. I find, by your last acc't, that a Number of the officers have rec'd more cash then they can acc't for; there must be a loss some where, who will suffer it I do not know. Give by Com'ts to Mrs. Irwine, & believe me, dear Col., your very Hbl. servt,

"D. GRIER."

After the Revolt of the Penn'a Line, in 1781, the remains of the Seventh Penn'a were drafted into the Fourth, subsequently the Fourth into the Third, and finally, in 1783, into the First.

To 23 Men at 16 Dollars per Man, 368.
By Coll. Gilbraith 2,480 Dollars. Balance due 408 Dol.

I have examined the vouchers ofered in support of the within acc't—and find it sufficiently certified that the 23 men mentioned have all been enlisted & qualified, but that 4 of them have deserted without being mustered having rec'd 60 dollars each.

It further apears by the certificate of Col. Gilbraith that Capt. Bratton hath rec'd of him 2480 Dollars which leaves a balance of 408 dollars due the Capt. provided he drew no money from any other quarter.

CONTINENTAL LINE.
EIGHTH PENNSYLVANIA.

JULY 20, 1776—JANUARY 17, 1781. (a)

EIGHTH PENNSYLVANIA REGIMENT. (a.)

Under authority of a resolution of Congress, dated July 15, 1776, (Journal, vol. 1, 411-419) for the defense of the western frontier, to garrison the posts of Presqu' Isle, Le Boeuff and Kittanning, to consist of seven companies from Westmoreland, and one from Bedford, the Eighth Pennsylvania was raised. On July 20, 1776, the convention of Pennsylvania then sitting, having recommended for field officers Col. Aenas Mackey (written McCoy), Lt. Col. George Wilson, Major Richard Butler, they were elected by Congress. Congress having resolved that the committees of the counties in which the companies were to be raised should name the company officers, and they having named them, Congress September 14, 1776 (Journal, vol. 1, 475), accepted them and ordered commissions. [See names in Roster, postea]. On the 23d of September (Journal, vol. 1, 472), Congress elected David McClure, chaplain, and Ephraim Douglass, quartermaster. November 23, 1776 (Journal, vol. 1, 558), Congress directed the Board of War to order the regiment to march, with all possible expedition, by the nearest route, to Brunswick, New Jersey, or to join Gen. Washington wherever he may be.* In the day-book, as quoted by Judge Veech, under date of December 5, 1776, is this entry: "This day received intelligence for the Battalion to march to Amboy."

Lt. Col. George Wilson to Col. James Wilson.

"Ketanian, Dec'r 5th, 1776.

"D'r Colonall: Last Evening We Rec'd Marching orders, Which I must say is not Disagreeable to me under ye Sircumstances of ye times, for when I enter'd into ye Service I Judged that if a necesety appeared to call us Below, it would be Don, therefore it Dont come on me by Surprise; But as Both ye Officers and Men understood they Ware Raised for ye

*For these extracts and other valuable information the editors are indebted to the late Judge Veech, of Emsworth, Pa., who had in his possession the original day-book of Ephraim Douglass, quarter-master of Eighth Penn'a. Up to November 26, 1776, the receipts are dated Appleby, the name of the Manor, where Kittanning now is.

Defence of ye Westeran Frontiers, and their fameleys and substance to be Left in so Defenceless a situation in their abstence, seems to Give Sensable trouble, altho I Hope We Will Get over it, By Leaving sum of ower trifeling Officers Behind who Pirtend to Have More Witt then seven men that can Rendar a Reason. We are ill Provided for a March at this Season, But there is nothing Hard under sum Sircumstances. We Hope provision Will be made for us Below, Blankets, Campe Kittles, tents, arms, Regementals, &c., that we may not Cut a Dispisable Figure, But may be Enabled to answer ye expectation of ower Countre.

"I Have Warmley Recommended to ye officers to Lay aside all Personall Resentments at this time, for that it Would be construed By ye Worald that they made use of that Sircumstance to Hide themselves under from ye cause of their countrie, and I hope it Will have a Good Efect at this time. We have ishued ye Neceserey orders, and appointed ye owt Parties to Randevous at Hanows Town, ye 15th instant, and to March Emeditly from there. We have Recommended it to ye Militia to Station One Hundred Men at this post until further orders.

"I Hope to have ye Pleasure of Seeing you Soon, as we mean to take Philodelphia in ower Rout. In ye mean time, I am, With Esteem, your Harty Wellwisher and H'ble Ser't.

"G. WILSON.

Up until the 5th of December, the regiment is styled in the receipts "the Battalion commanded by Col. Eneas Mackay." In those of December 5, 1776, it is first styled "The Eighth Battalion of Penn'a troops in the Continental service." The regiment marched from Kittanning on the 6th of January, 1777, and the next notice we have of it is found in the "Life of Timothy Pickering," (volume i, page 122), in the following reference to the Eighth Penn'a:

"March 1, 1777, Saturday.

"Dr. Putnam brought me a billet, of which the following is a copy:

" 'Dear Sir: Our Battalion is so unfortunate as not to have a Doctor and in my opinion, dying for want of medicine. I beg you will come down to-morrow morning, and visit the sick of my company. For that favor you shall have sufficient satisfaction from your humble servant,

'JAMES PIGOTT,
'Capt. of 8 Batt. of Pa.

" 'Quibbletown, Feb. 28, 1777.'

"I desired the Dr. by all means to visit them. They were raised about the Ohio, and had traveled near five hundred miles, as one of the soldiers who came for the Dr. informed me. For 150 miles over mountains, never entering a house, but building fires and encamping in the Snow. Considerable numbers, unused to such hardships, have since died. The Colonel and Lieutenant Colonel among the dead. The Dr. informed he found them quartered in cold shattered houses," &c.

Colonels Mackey and Wilson having died, under the arrangement of March 12, 1777, Daniel Brodhead became colonel, Richard Butler lieutenant colonel, and Stephen Bayard major. When Morgan's rifle command was organized, Lieut. Col. Butler was made lieutenant colonel of it, and Major James Ross, of the First Penn'a, became lieutenant colonel. According to a return, signed by the latter, dated "Mt. Pleasant, June 9, 1777," the number of men enlisted between the 9th of August and the 16th of December, 1776, was six hundred and thirty; enlisted since the 16th of December, thirty-four; making a total of six hundred and eighty-four. The strength of the respective companies was—

	Sergeants.	Rank and file.
Capt. David Kilgore,	3	55
Capt. Samuel Miller,	4	82
Capt. Van Swearingen,	3	71
Capt. Jas. Piggott,	4	55
Capt. Wendel Ourry,	4	54
Capt. Andrew Mann,	4	58
Capt. James Montgomery,	2	57
Capt. Michael Huffnagle,	4	70
Capt. Lieut. John Finley,	2	77
Capt. Lieut. Basil Prather,	3	69

From the total, thirty-six were deducted as prisoners of war; fourteen missing; fifty-one dead; fifteen discharged; one hundred and twenty-six deserted. Lieut. Matthew Jack absent from April 13, wounded. Ensign Gabriel Peterson absent from April 17, wounded. Capt. Moses Carson deserted April 21. First Lieut. Richard Carson deserted February 23. Joseph McDolo, first lieutenant, deserted. Thomas Forthay, ensign, deserted. Alexander Simrall, second lieutenant, cashiered. David McKee, ensign, dismissed the service. Ephraim Douglass, quarter-master, taken by the enemy March 13.

Capt. Van Swearingen, First Lieut. Basil Prather, and Second Lieut. John Hardin, with their commands, were also with Morgan, and greatly distinguished themselves in the series of actions that resulted in the surrender of Gen. Burgoyne at Saratoga. These commands consisted of picked riflemen out of all of the companies of the Eighth Penn'a.

A return, dated November 1, 1777, shows the strength of the regiment present; Colonel, major, two captains, six lieutenants, adjutant, paymaster and surgeon, sergeant major, quartermaster sergeant and drum major, twenty-nine sergeants, nine drums and fifes, one hundred and twelve rank and file, fit for duty; twenty-eight sick present; seventy-seven sick absent; one hundred and thirty-nine on command; total, three hundred and fifty-one. Prisoners of war, one sergeant and fifty-eight privates. Capt. Van Swearingen, Lieut. Basil Prather, and Lieut. John Hardin on command with Col. Morgan. Vacant officers: Lieutenant colonel, four captains, three lieutenants, eight ensigns, chaplain, and surgeon's mate. Lieut. Col. Ross resigned after the battles of Brandywine and Germantown.

On the 5th of March, 1778, the regiment was ordered to Pittsburgh for the defense of the western frontiers, and by directions of Gen. McIntosh, Col. Brodhead made, about the 12th of July, a detour up the West Branch to check the savages who were ravaging Wyoming and the West Branch valley. He was at Muncy, on the 24th of July, and had ordered Capt. Finley's company into Penn's valley, where two of the latter's soldiers, Thomas Van Doren and Jacob Shedacre, who had participated in the campaign against Burgoyne, were killed, on the 24th, in sight of Potter's Fort, by the Indians. (Penn'a Archives, O. S., vol. vi, page 666.) Soon after, Col. Hartley with his regiment relieved Col. Brodhead, and he proceeded with the Eighth to Pittsburgh.

"August 28, at Bedford, William Graham, brigade major.

"November 2, Capt. Joseph Finley to act as brigade major in Graham's absence.

"At Tuscarawas (Fort Laurens, Ohio), November 21, court-martial ordered, Maj. Frederick Vernon, president, to try Capt. Thomas Cook. Tried—not guilty.

"November 25, Capt. Basil Prather, for good conduct yesterday, allowed to hunt with any three men he chooses.

"December 31, at Fort McIntosh: As the Eighth regiment is deficient in subalterns, the Gen. appoints sergeants John Guthrie, John Clark, Thomas Wiatt, and James Morrison, to be ensigns.

There were a great many court martials of Eighth Penn'a, Ninth and Thirteenth Virginia in 1779-80. Of the Eighth, Isaac Alkin, theft, guilty, fifty lashes; James Maxwell, refusal to do duty, to ride a wooden horse ten minutes, with a musket to each foot; Edward Wilkie, many offenses, one hundred lashes, and to be drummed out of the regiment as a vagabond, not to appear on pain of death; Thomas Kelly, five hundred lashes, surgeon to attend the execution.

A monthly return of the troops, commanded by Col. Brodhead, in the Western Department, dated July 30, 1780, gives the strength of the Eighth Penn'a: Colonel, lieutenant colonel, major, two captains, three lieutenants, four ensigns, adjutant, paymaster, quarter-master, surgeon, surgeon's mate, sergeant major, quarter-master sergeant, one drum and fife major, ten sergeants, ten drums and fifes, one hundred and twenty rank and file, fit for duty, four sick, two furloughed, eight on command, three deserted, six joined the Invalid company.

In a letter from Gen. William Irvine to Gen. Washington, soon after he took command at Fort Pitt, dated December 2, 1781, he says: "I have re-formed the remains of the late Eighth Pennsylvania into two companies, and call them a detachment from the Penn'a Line, to be commanded by Lt. Col. Bayard." [The first company, Capt. Clark, Lieuts. Peterson and Reed; second company, Capt. Brady, Lieuts. Ward and Morrison.—Note of Judge Veech.]

Capt. Matthew Jack, in a statement on file, says: "They were stationed at Bound Brook, New Jersey, in the winter and spring of 1777, where the British attacked it, and defeated it with the loss of a number of men. In the year 1778, it was sent to Pittsburgh, to guard the frontier, and placed under the command of Gen. McIntosh. That they went down to the mouth of the Beaver, and there built Fort McIntosh, and from that went, upon McIntosh's command, to the head of the Muskingum, and there built Fort Laurens. In the year 1779, went up the Allegheny, on Gen. Brodhead's expedition, attacked the Indians and defeated them and burned their towns. On the return of the regiment, its time having expired, it was discharged at Pittsburgh." For a full account of the services of the regiment in the West, the reader is referred to Brodhead's Letter-book, published in the Twelfth volume, first series, of Penn'a Archives.

Col. Daniel Brodhead was born about 1725, his birthplace being, probably, Albany, New York; but as his father made several removals in the early years of his married life, this is not certain. In 1738, his father migrated to Pennsylvania, settling at a place which he called, after his own name, Dansbury, now East Stroudsburg, Monroe county. The younger Daniel grew up among the rude experiences of a frontier settlement, and, probably had his first experience of actual war when the Indians, after ravaging all the country between the Lehigh and Delaware rivers, north of the Blue Monutains, attacked the Brodhead house at Dansbury, which had been hastily fortified, on the 11th of December, 1755. The attack was a fierce one but it was totally unsuccessful, and the repulse of the Indians met ended for a time the war in that section. In 1771, he removed to Reading, and soon after was appointed Deputy Surveyor under John Lukens, who was then Surveyor General. In July, 1775, he was appointed a delegate from Berks county to the Provincial Convention at Philadelphia. In the beginning of 1776, he was appointed lieutenant colonel of the rifle regiment, which was raised in six weeks, and given its first rendezvous at Marcus Hook, on the Delaware, where it was ordered to support the Provincial fleet in the attack on the Roebuck and the Leopard, which vessels were menacing Philadelphia. After this attack, which served its purpose of preventing the enemy's advance, the regiment was sent to join the army near New York. Upon the capture of Col. Miles at the battle of Long Island, the command of the remainder of the battalion devolved on Col. Brodhead, who was, in fact, after the battle, in command of the whole Pennsylvania contingent, being the senior officer, remaining with the army. Shortly after, he seems to have gone home on sick leave, and, when he rejoined the army, it was as colonel of the Eighth regiment. The history of Col. Brodhead during his connection with the regiment has been given. He made some important treaties with the Indians, but the honor of pushing west into the Indian country was, greatly to his chagrin, devolved upon Col. Clark, a Virginia officer. The war was now virtually ended, and Brodhead was not again assigned to command. In the reorganization of the army, early in 1781, he was made colonel of the First regiment, his commission dating September 29, 1776, and he seems, at a later date, to have been appointed a brigadier general. He served afterwards in the General Assembly, and, in 1789, was appointed Surveyor General of the State. He held this office eleven years, and died at Milford, Pike county, November 15, 1809. He was twice married. His first wife was Elizabeth Depui, by whom he had two children, Daniel and Ann Garton; and his second was Rebecca, widow of Gen. Thomas Mifflin, by whom he had no children.

Lt. Col. George Wilson was a Virginian, from Augusta county; had been an officer in the French and Indian war, of 1755-64; settled where New Geneva, Fayette county, now is, in 1768-9, owning the land on the river, on both sides of George's creek; Pennsylvania had no more resolute officer than he was, in all our boundary troubles. He died in service, at Quibbletown, New Jersey, February, 1777.—Hon. James Veech.

Lt. Col. Stephen Bayard, was born in Maryland in 1748, belonged to a Huguenot family from Languedoc. He was brought up by his uncle, Col. John Bayard, of Philadelphia. He settled after the war in Pittsburgh, going into partnership with Major Isaac Craig. He retired from business in 1788, and settled on his lands on the Monongahela, fourteen miles above Pittsburgh, and laid out a town which he called Elizabeth, for his wife, who was a daughter of Col. Aeneas Mackey, who had been an officer of the British army, and in 1754, in command of an independent company of King's soldiers from South Carolina, accompanied Washington on his first expedition, and who afterwards became one of the King's justices for Westmoreland county. [Col. M's widow Mary, was a Pennsylvania pensioner, and resided in Westmoreland county in 1784.—Editors.] Col. Bayard desired to make "Elizabeth" a point for boat and ship building, and for that purpose brought out from Philadelphia, a company of skilled ship-builders, who built the first vessel launched on the waters of the Monongahela. In 1812, he was tendered a major general's commission in the army, but his bodily infirmities demanded that he should decline its acceptance. He died at Pittsburgh, December 13, 1815, aged sixty-seven, and was buried in the grave-yard of the First Presbyterian church. With regard to Capt. Peterson [Gabriel], I knew him well. He lived about two miles above Elizabeth, on the opposite side of the river. I saw but little of him after I moved to Pittsburgh, in 1815. He called upon me, and spent a day at my house in 1825. He was then aged and infirm, and I am under the impression he died a short time afterwards, and was buried at or near Elizabeth."—Manuscript letter of John B. Bayard (son of Col. Stephen Bayard) to Isaac Craig, Esq., dated November 13, 1876.

In a deposition of Lieut. Gabriel Peterson, he says: "I was near Col. Bayard at the battle of Brandywine, when he was struck down by a cannon ball, that broke a rifle gun of Sergt. Wyatt and his shoulder, and then struck Col. Bayard on the head and shoulder, and tumbled him over on the ground for near two rods. Deponent helped him up on his feet—he was frantic, and seemed much hurt, but being much engaged at that time deponent could not render him any assistance."

In an application of John Holton, a private in this regiment, he says: He, Holton, was in the battles of Ash Swamp and Bound Brook, and that he was wounded in the thigh at Brandywine, and with a bayonet at Paoli, and that they were engaged at Germantown. Robert Hunter, of Finley's company, states that he was wounded at Bound Brook, and also at Paoli.

Van Swearingen was probably the most noted captain in the Eighth Penn'a. On the 19th of September, he and a lieutenant, and twenty privates were captured in a sudden dash that scattered Morgan's men. He fell into the hands of the Indians, but was rescued by Gen. Fraser's bat man (one who takes care of his officer's horse), who took him before the General. The latter interrogated him concerning the number of the American army, but got no answer, except that it was commanded by Gens. Gates and Arnold. He then threatened to hang him. "You may, if you please," said Van Swearingen. Fraser then rode off, leaving him in care of Sergt. Dunbar, who consigned him to Lt. Auburey, who ordered him to be placed among the other prisoners, with directions not to be ill treated. Swearingen, after Burgoyne's army was removed to Virginia, made especial exertions to have Dunbar and Auburey exchanged. Swearingen was the first sheriff of Washington county in 1781, resided in now Fayette county, opposite Greenfield. His daughter became the wife of the celebrated Capt. Samuel Brady, also of the Eighth Penn'a, so conspicuous in the annals of Western Pennsylvania.

In Penn'a Archives (O. S. Vol. x, page 611), will be found a letter from Gen. Wilkinson, giving an account of Lieut. John Hardin's services in the campaign against Burgoyne. It appears that at the date of the letter (Nov., 1784), that Lieut. Hardin was second on the return for sheriff of Fayette county.

NINTH PENNSYLVANIA.

OCTOBER 25, 1776—JANUARY 17, 1781. (a)

NINTH PENNSYLVANIA REGIMENT. (a.)

From the only return thus far discovered of the Ninth Pennsylvania regiment, dated July 17, 1777, and signed by Col. George Nagel, we take the following data: There were then present, lieutenant colonel, major, eight captains, fourteen lieutenants, adjutant, paymaster, quarter-master and surgeon, twenty-three sergeants, twelve drums and fifes, two hundred and nine privates present, fit for duty; on detachment at Morristown, ten; sick, in hospital at Blackwater, ten; Chatham, six; Philadelphia, four; sick, in camp, fourteen; recruiting, five; on furlough, six; prisoners, three; on command, two; deaths, twenty-six; discharged, ten; deserted, eighty-four; to the enemy, eight; missing, seven; prisoner, one.

Under the command of Col. Richard Butler, this regiment took a prominent share in the capture of Stony Point.* Lieut. George Knox led the forlorn hope (consisting of twenty men) of the right column in the assault, and was the second man inside of the works, for which he received four hundred dollars; this he directed to be distributed among his men; for his gallantry he was breveted captain, by resolution of Congress. Gen. Wayne, in a letter to President Reed, of 26th July, says: "Gibbon, of Sixth, and Knox, of Ninth, two young gentlemen, led the van of each column. Gibbon lost seventeen men. Killed in Butler's regiment, one sergeant and two privates; wounded, Lieut. Col. Hay, of Tenth, two sergeants, two corporals, and twenty-five privates." St. Clair to Reed, in a letter dated July 25, 1779, says, "my friend, Col. Butler, commanded one of the attacks, and distinguished himself."

After the Revolt in the Penn'a Line in 1781, the Ninth Pennsylvania was pretty generally re-enlisted under their old colonel and his captains in the Fifth Penn'a, their depreciation being settled at Reading, between the 23d and 27th of March, 1781.

*This noted capture took place July 16, 1779.

*Col. Records, vol. 12, 428. From the association of James Irwin with ensign Smith, &c., we have concluded that he is the same one meant by "Joseph Irwin," and "Joseph Irvine" in printed lists of January 17, 1781, and January 1, 1783; but for Gen. Humpton writing the name plainly Joseph Irvine, May 12, 1781, Seventh regiment, we should feel certain, that there was a James Erwin as follows, William Mackey, Eleventh Pennsylvania regiment; prisoner of war on parole.

[Endorsed] A List of all Officers who have served in the Ninth Pennsylvania Regiment since January 1, 1777, with the dates of their Commissions, Occurrences, Claims of Rank, etc.

[On back of Return of Officers of the Ninth Pennsylvania Regiment, referred to therein.]

Captain Joseph McClellan and Captain Thomas Bartholomew Bowen of the Ninth Pennsylvania Regiment found their claim of Rank as Mentioned in the Within List, on the following Pretentions:

Early in 1776, Three Battalions of regular Troops Under the command of Colonel Miles, were raised for two years by the State of Pennsylvania, and were enter'd into the Continental Service, under the Denomination of State Troops. In these the Claimants receiv'd Commissions.

Mr. McClellan receiv'd a Captaincy on the 15th of July, and Mr. Bowen as the Eldest Subaltern, should have succeeded to a Company vice Captain Peebles, who died in Captivity the 2d September, 1776, of the Wounds he receiv'd in the Battle of Long Island.

The Executive Power of the State of Pennsylvania having thought proper to reduce the three Battalions to one, left it to the choice of the Officers, whether they would continue in the State Service or accept Commissions in the Continental Regiments on the (then) New Establishment; and these Claimants, with other of the Senior Officers were (agreeable to their Choice) transferr'd.—Several Junior Officers were made Captains in that Regiment, and now take Rank of Captains Bowen and McClellan, by having Commissions of earlier dates; that Regiment having been made Continental, and the Officers receiv'd Commissions from Congress of the dates of their first Appointments in the Service of the State. These Claims were allowed by a Court of Inquiry, of which Lieutenant Colonel Bure was President, in January last, and the proceedings deliver'd to Major General Lord Sterling—A Copy of which (it is said) was transmitted to the Honorable the Board of War.

CONTINENTAL LINE.

TENTH PENNSYLVANIA.

OCTOBER 25, 1776—JANUARY 17, 1781. (a)

TENTH PENNSYLVANIA REGIMENT. (a.)

The Tenth Pennsylvania regiment was raised also agreeably to a resolution of Congress, of September 16, 1776. By an unpublished memorandum of the Council of Safety, it appears that the captain and other subaltern officers of the Tenth Pennsylvania were appointed upon the 4th of December, 1776, except Capt. Shade, whose appointment is dated on the fifth of the month. Their rank was to be governed by the dates of their commissions in the battalion or one year service, or at least that was the ordinary rule or assumed to be by the officers themselves as regulating their rank. Promotion and appointment out of this order, affected the Tenth, perhaps, to a greater degree than other regiments; and it owed its permanent organization and efficiency to the business qualifications and soldierly abality of its lieutenant colonel, Adam Hubley.

As early as January 23, 1777 (Penn'a Archives, 2d series, vol. i, page 694), Lieut. Col. Dunlap resigned on account of an alleged preference over him. This was followed by Col. Penrose's resignation, March 7 (ibid. 711), and remonstrances of the subalterns (ibid. page 717), and in a manuscript letter dated March 14, 1777, Capt. Henry Shade protests against the appointment of Caleb North to be major of the Tenth.

From a return, dated "camp at Morristown, July 8, 1777," which is a summary of the state of the regiment from the 2d of December, 1776, to the first of June, 1777, signed by Lieut. Col. Adam Hubley, there were present nineteen commissioned and staff officers, twenty-seven sergeants, and twelve drums and fifes; of privates, one hundred and thirty-nine present, fit for duty; eleven sick, present, twenty-eight sick, absent, total enlisted, three hundred and eighty-six; total joined, three hundred and seventy-seven; total mustered, three hundred and thirty-one; total brought into the field, two hundred and thirty-three; taken by the enemy, twenty-two; taken by prior enlistment, thirty-seven. Officers recruiting: Captains Long, Shade, Calhoun, Sample, and Cox; Lieutenants Schrack, Stake, and Steel; Second Lieutenants Patton, Drummond, and Skinner; Ensigns Cole and Patterson; chaplain, surgeon, and surgeon's mate not yet appointed.

A return, dated November 1, 1777, sets forth nineteen commissioned officers and staff present, including surgeon, paymaster; non-commissioned officers, seventeen; six drums and five fifes; eighty-four rank and file, fit for duty; nine sick, present, forty-four sick, absent, and twelve on command; Capts. Cox and Calhoun, sick, absent; Capt. Shade, cashiered by general court martial, October 16; Lieut. Steel, wounded September 11; Lieut. Shiles, wounded, and died since; Lieut. Gordon, absent, on furlough, since October 15; Lieut. Tripler, resigned November 1; Lieut. Carson, prisoner with the enemy September 4; Ensign Schrack, resigned September 4; Ensign Shanks, cashiered for stealing two pairs of shoes, October 12; Adjutant Wright, deserted; Quarter-Master Small, resigned.

The following are prisoners of war, killed, and missing in the several battles and skirmishes, not accounted for in the above return:

Taken at Bound Brook, April 13, rank and file,	15
Taken at Princeton,	7
Missing at the battle at Brandywine, Paoli, and Germantown, &c.,	38
Total,	60

By a resolution of the Supreme Executive Council, dated April 3, 1778 (Colonial Records, Penn'a, volume xi, page 456) the Eleventh Pennsylvania was incorporated with the Tenth, and Col. Humpton directed to take command in the room of Col. Nagel, and, by a return, dated "Camp at White Plains, September 13, 1778," it appears:

"The following officers were left out of the 10th Penn'a in consequence of the new arrangement, and considered as supernumeraries: George Nagel, colonel; William Cox, David Schrack, captains; William Knox and Robert Hooper, 1st lieutenants; John Cole, Adam Keller, Daniel Dennis, and Jacob Tolbert, 2nd lieutenants. N. B. Captain Cox, before the new arrangement took place, resigned his commission verbally to Col. Nagel, but since considered himself one of the supernumeraries, in order to have the emoluments that may be allowed such officers.

"Signed, ADAM HUBLEY, JR.,
"Lt. Col. 10 Pa."

A return of the Tenth Pennsylvania, commanded by Col. Richard Humpton, October 10, 1778, indicates the strength of the regiment as follows: Sergeants, twenty-three; drums and fifes, nineteen; rank and file present, fit for duty, one hundred and eighty-six; sick present, twenty; sick absent, twenty-five; on furlough, two; with the light infantry corps, seventy-one; with wagons and other menial duty, twenty.

An independent company, which was to be raised and stationed at Lancaster, of which Jacob Weaver was captain, Edward Cowan, first lieutenant, William Feltman, second lieutenants, and Andrew Backenstose, ensign, seems to have joined this regiment, or to have been annexed to it.

ROSTER OF FIELD AND STAFF OFFICERS. (a.)

Colonels.

Penrose, Joseph, from lieutenant colonel, Fifth battalion, October 25, 1776; resigned March 7, 1777, because Col. Johnston was preferred in rank.

ELEVENTH PENNSYLVANIA.

(KNOWN AS THE "OLD ELEVENTH")

OCTOBER 25, 1776—JULY 1, 1778. (a)

ELEVENTH PENNSYLVANIA REGIMENT. (a.)

Of the old Eleventh but two returns have been found; that of June 11, 1777, signed by Col. Richard Humpton, indicates the strength of the several companies as follows, "Camp at Mt. Pleasant":

	Present.	Dead.	Prisoners of war.
Capt. Dawson,	39	6	1
Capt. Coates,	34	6	1
Capt. Hedrick,	36	5	4
Capt. Scull,	34	1
Capt. Douglass,	43	6
Capt. Harris,	17	2	1
Capt. Dean,	39	7
Capt. Ross,	21	1	1

The other return, dated November 1, 1777, gives the following data: Present, the colonel, major, Capts. Dawson, Scull, Douglass, and Dean, one lieutenant, one ensign, quarter-master sergeant, fife major, six sergeants, seven drums and fifes, sixty-five rank and file present, fit for duty, thirteen sick, present, fifty-three sick, absent, thirty-one on command, one on furlough, three of Dawson's company prisoners of war, one of Hedrick's confined; Lieut. Col. Gurney, resigned; Capt. Hedrick, on leave since September 25; Capt. Harris since October 17; Ross, dito; Lieut. Mackey, September 11, prisoner of war; Lieut. Anderson, absent, with leave, since October 20; Lieut. Jones, sick; Lieutenant Stotesbury, wounded September 11; Lieut. Patton, with the baggage; Lieut. Boogh, confined; Lieut. McElderry, absent since October 21; Lieut. Martin, prisoner of war, September 11; Lieut. Archer, recruiting; Ensign Fiss, sick at Bethlehem; Ensign Stow, absent, with leave, since October 20; Ensign Tate, resigned; Ensign Thumb, confined; Chaplain McMurdie, absent, with leave; Capt. Coates, Lieut. Levers, and Ensign Fricker, resigned; Lieut. Peter Martin, Lieut. Carmichael, and Adjutant Lucas, killed; Lieut. Hammond, appointed quarter-master; Ensign Reeves, adjutant; six sergeants sick, and one drummer; Lieuts. Mackey and Hicks, with infantry.

The old Eleventh lost very heavily at Brandywine, and, by resolution of the Supreme Executive Council of April 3, 1778, was incorporated with the Tenth; this went into effect July 1, 1778.

Col. Richard Humpton was born in Yorkshire, England, in 1733, and settled in Chester county; he was appointed lieutenant colonel in the Flying Camp, July 16, 1776, from which he was transferred to the colonelcy of the Eleventh; at the close of the war he was colonel of the Second; he was Adjutant General of Pennsylvania, under Governor McKean, and died December 21, 1804, and was buried in the Friends' grave-yard, at Caln, in Chester county.

Lieut. Col. Gurney resigned after the battle of Germantown, on account of some irregularity in the case of promotion, to which he thought it dishonorable to submit. He was a merchant in Philadelphia after the war, and Warden of the port. He also commanded the First regiment of the Philadelphia Brigade in the Whisky Insurrection. He died at his country seat, near Philadelphia, May 25, 1815, aged seventy-seven. He was a native of Bucks county. In his eighteenth year, he served in the French war; took part in the capture of Cape Breton; and was at the capture of Guadaloupe; and, in the breaking out of the Revolution, his services were conspicuous in drilling officers, and he was commissioned captain of infantry May 25, 1775. In the course of the following year, he agreed to go into the regular service, and was appointed lieutenant colonel in the Eleventh Pennsylvania.

THE NEW ELEVENTH.

LIEUT. COL. ADAM HUBLEY, JR., COMMANDANT.

JANUARY 13, 1779—JANUARY 17, 1781. (a)

THE NEW ELEVENTH PENNSYLVANIA. (a).

The resolutions of Congress organizing this regiment are fully referred to in the note to Col. Hartley's ante; and it was considered proper to publish, in connection with this, what little material remains of the independent companies. Malcolm's and Spencer's regiments were of the sixteen additional regiments, and included companies raised either in part or whole in Pennsylvania.

A return of the state of the regiment, made June 25, 1779, at Sunbury, by Col. Hubley, gives the following data: "Present, lieutenant colonel, major, four captains, one captain lieutenant, eight lieutenants, three ensigns, paymaster, adjutant, quartermaster, surgeon and mate, sergeant major, quarter master sergeant, drum major, fife major, twenty two sergeants, eight drummers and eight fifers.

Lieut. Col's company, effective rank and file,	33
Major Prowell's "	36
Capt. Bush, light infantry,	52
Capt. Forester's,	35
Capt Walker's,	32
Capt. Claypoole's,	33
Capt. Sweeney's,	35
Capt. Carbery's,	36
Capt. McLean's, Delaware regiment,	21
	249

"Absent officers: Capt. Kearsley, with Col. Spencer's regiment; Capt. Carbery, doing duty with light horse; Capt. Forester, in Maryland, on furlough, since February 1, 1779; Capt. Bush, in Philadelphia, on command since June 12.

"N. B.—The independent companies, in Col. Spencer's regiment, have not yet joined, the whole amount to about seventy-five men."

The following correspondence and memoranda, together with Lieut. Col. Hubley's journal, and such of his letters as have been heretofore published in Penn'a Archives, O. S., vol. vii, make up the record of this regiment so far as it has been preserved. Lieut. Col. Hubley's order book, recently discovered and placed in the office of the Secretary of the Commonwealth, has added much to the larger portion of what follows. A few letters of Col. Hartley, from the Hand Papers, are prefatory.

Col. Hartley to Gen. Hand.

York, May 10, 1779.

"* * * The following Persons are brave Soldiers and good Woodsmen: Captain Hawkins Boone, Lieut. Robt. King & Wm. Simms, and they have good Knowledge of the Country to Tioga.

"If Col. James Murray will go with you, he will be very useful. He is well acquainted with Indian affairs, and has a good Idea of the Indian Country. More persons you will hear of at Sunbury.

"You should engage Captains Ferguson, J. Camplin, & Lieut. William Campbell. They are excellent woodsmen—the latter you should have near your person. Colonel Hunter can tell you where you may find them.

"As Guides (besides those which you will be able to hear of yourself), you should take one Fox, & one Rummerfield, of Sunbury. Colonel Zeb. Butler, and Capt. Spalding, of Wyoming, can inform you of others."

Col. Hartley to Gen. Hand.

"York, June 3d, 1779.

"—Fletcher, a private in Col. Hartley's regt.

"—Ippie, " " " (a Dutch Lad.)

"In addition to the Persons who I have mentioned before, I must mention a Robert Crownover to you -he lives at Muncy —he is well acquainted with the country to Tioga, & is an intelligent, sensible young man and a soldier.

"You will find the Back Woodsmen upon some occasions very cautious. Perhaps it may be proper often, but some Times it may be necessary to make bold pushes. I would tell you several good officers, their own good Behavior will doubtless recommend many of them to you. Nevertheless, I shall mention a Mr. Houston to you; he is adjutant of my Regiment. He was Sergt. Major of Grenadiers in the British Army—he had a Brother, an officer in our army, and came and joined us. He is the best adjutant I have seen—he is very bold and enterprizing—as soon as you begin your march, I recommend him particularly to you. If General Sullivan commands, you will please to mention Houston to him."

Col. Hartley to Gen. Hand.

"York, June 3d, 1779.

"Sir: As I understand, you have no Horse sent you from the main army, I would give it as my weak opinion, that you should at least preserve the number which Captain Carbery took up. If one Corps should think it hard they should furnish the whole of the men; they ought to be pick't from the whole Troops of the Command, and you will find no officer more fit to command them than Mr. Carbery."

"1779, 13th June, James Crawford, of Northumberland, former major of the Twelfth Pennsylvania regiment, offers his services to Gen. Hand."

Lieut. Col. Hubley to Gen. Washington.

"Camp Millstone, May 19, 1779.

"Sir: By the resignation of Col. Hartley, of the 11th Penn'a Regt., I, as eldest Lt. Col. of the Line, considered myself entitled to the same, and accordingly wrote to the Honl. the Executive Council of the State of Penn'a, requesting they would recommend me to the Board of War, and procure the appointment to which I was entitled.

"The Council, in consequence of a certificate, signed by Genl. St. Clair, as commanding officer of the Penn'a Line, certifying my pretentions, Resolved that I should be recommended, and accordingly did recommend me as being entitled to the command of said Regiment. Previous to this Resolve, His Excellency, the President of Pennsylvania, informed Col. Connor (present Lt. Colo. of the Regiment) of my claim, and requested to know whether he had any claim prior to mine. Colo. Connor informed his Excellency he had not, and insinuated that he had no objections to my being promoted.

"The Resolve being accordingly handed to the Board of War—not doubting but a commission would be granted—on the delivery thereof, the Board objected to the granting of the Commission, and informed me that Col. Connor claimed rank of me. I informed them of what had passed between the President and Colo. Connor, and believed that matter was fully settled, but requested before they issued the commission, they would send to Col. Connor for further information in the matter. This they did, and received a letter wrote by your Excellency to Col. Connor, in which it appeared he claimed rank of me. The Board accordingly concluded not to interfere in the matter until they had heard from your Excellency on the subject.

"I am a total stranger to Col. Connor's pretensions of claiming rank of me, unless it is because he went out as Lieut. of the 1st Penn'a Regiment, and considers himself an elder officer on that account. If that be his claim, he might, with the same propriety, claim rank of Gen. St. Clair and every colonel in the line.

"All that I shall say on my part is, that I was appointed (being then out of the army and in a private station), a major to one of the additional regiments raised in 1776, for the purpose of filling up the quota ordered to be raised in the State of Pennsylvania, and in regular course, promoted to the rank of lieutenant colonel (my commission bearing date as such October 4, 1776). I served in the same brigade with Col. Connor for a considerable time; he ever submitted to my rank, and never intimated he thought himself injured by my rank.

"Several gentlemen in the line claimed rank of me upon the same principles. As well a Board of General Officers, (met at the Cross-roads in Pennsylvania for the purpose of settling the rank of the Pennsylvania Line), as the Board of Arrangement convened for the same purpose at White Plains, determined in my favor.

"I beg your Excellency will look into this matter and take such steps for the settlement of the same as you shall think proper.

"I am, with the greatest respect, your Excellency's,

"Most obedient servant,

"A. HUBLEY, Lt. Col.

"His Excellency Gen. Washington."

Lieut. Col. Hubley to the Board of General Officers.

"Camp Millstone, May 26, 1779.

"Gentlemen: Having acquired some knowledge of Colo. Connor's pretentions since my writing to his Excellency on that subject, I beg leave to make some few observations thereupon.

"Colo. Connor, I think, in his claims, observes that he ought to have been appointed commandant of the 11th Regt. previous to its being taken into the Penn'a line—upon what principles he founds this claim, I am a stranger to. He certainly must be totally unacquainted with the time of Col. Hartley's resignation. Had he resigned his commission, previous to the Regiment being taken into the line, there might have been some show of propriety in it; but this not being the case (Colo. Hartley's resignation being some considerable time after the Regt. being taken in the line), I cannot think his pretensions upon these principles can have any weight.

"With respect to his being a Senior officer in the same line, formerly with me, I beg leave to contradict. It's well known the Regiment he alludes to, formerly commanded by Col. Thompson, was not considered a Pennsylvania Regiment, nor was it taken into the line as one until Some time in 1776. The Regiment to which I was appointed being raised in 1775, and then called the first Penna. Regt.*

"Col. Connor further says that some time in 1776, he was ordered on Command to the Southward, as Brigade Major to Genl. Armstrong, and held the rank of major, and after his return from the Southward he was appointed a Lt. Col. in Col. Hartley's regiment. In order to throw proper light upon this matter, as Colo. Connor has been by no means explicit, I beg leave to add, that before his arrival in Philadelphia from the Southward, he stood, through the interest of his friends, a candidate for the Majority in the Regiment to which I was appointed; that agreeable to the mode of appointing officers, we were voted for, when I was almost unanimously chosen Major to the 10 P. Regt. and in regular turn promoted to the rank of Lieut. Col. in Col. Hartley's regiment, being some considerable time after my promotion.

"He has never taken notice that in his leaving the Regiment and going to the Southward, it was considered as giving up his commission in the same, and, in consequence thereof, another officer appointed to fill up his vacancy. And further, he does not tell you that he was appointed a Lieut. Colo. in Colo. Hartley's regiment, in room of Lt. Col. Wilkinson who resigned, but says he was appointed a Lieut. Colo. to one of the additional regiments, which implies as if he was appointed at the original constitution of the Regts.

*Quere? First Penn'a battalion, Col. de Hass.

"As much has already been said in this matter, I shall conclude with my pretentions of rank I now hold in the line of Penn'a. I totally claim my rank as an appointment (and not as a promotion, being then out of the army as an officer, and in a private station for some considerable time and served as a volunteer.) When I received my commission as Major, I considered I had received it from a body, who were vested with power to appoint and arrange the officers; so have two distinct Boards since considered it, and determined in my favor.

"I beg leave for further particulars respecting my rank, to refer you to the letter from me to his Excellency (which no doubt will be laid before you) on the subject.

"I am with the greatest respect, Gentlemen,

"Your most ob't Humble Servant,

"A. HUBLEY, JR., Lt. Col.

"To the Hon. the Board of General Officers, now sitting for the purpose of settling Rank":

"The Hon. the Board will observe that I don't mean to claim rank from my first entering, but that what has been said with respect to my first appointment, is to answer Colo. Connor's observations thereupon.

"Philad'a, June 8, 1779.

"In consequence of the resignation of Colo. Thomas Hartley (I being the Senior Lt. Colo. in the Penn'a Line), I was this day commissioned Lt. Colo. Commandant of said Regiment, to rank from the 13th day of February, 1779.

"ADM. HUBLEY, JR.,

"Colo. Comt. 11th Pa. Reg't."

Col. Hubley writes to Gen. Hand from Sunbury, under date of June 15:

"This day arrived, and took command of the following forts: Muncy, Jenkins, &c., and this place."

Col. Hubley writes to Gen. Hand from Sunbury, June 17:

"A Board of General Officers to determine the dispute of rank between Major Prowell and the Captains of the Penn'a line determined in favor of the latter, in consequence of which he will be removed from the rank he now holds, and a Senior Captain take his place. * * I am extremely sorry for the loss of Major Prowell; he is a worthy, good officer."

Lieut. Col. Adam Hubley to Gen. Hand.

"Sunbury, June 22nd, 1779.

"Dear General: Your favour of the 19th came safe to hand last evening. I'm extremely happy to find I shall be under your command this campaign. I have communicated this agreeable piece of news to a number of my officers, who equally express their happiness on the occasion, and what adds to the happiness is, that your corps is to be a select one, to act as Light Infantry.

"Agreeably to your orders, I have given directions for the Regiment to be in readiness at a moment's warning.

"Genl. Sullivan, it seems, is to determine on the continuance of the Dragoons in my Regiment. I must beg you will use your influence with him to have them dismounted, unless they can be annex'd and do duty with us.

"A few days since Capt. Kearsley, late of my regiment, arrived at this post with intent again to take command of his compy. It appears, by the inclosed letters (the original of which is in my hand), that he had absolutely resigned his commission and left the army; upon what principle he claims the company, I know not. I cannot think of giving him any command in my regiment, unless the matter is properly settled. The officers are determined not to submit to his taking command. I dread the consequences, unless something is done speedily. Capt. Kearsley leaves this to-morrow for Wyoming. I beg you will state to him this matter, and the consequences that must attend it should he persist in claiming rank in the regiment.

"We shall be able to load the greatest part of the boats at this place. I expect they will be at Fort Jenkins about the 25th, at which place the officer commanding them will wait your further orders.

"The remainder are on their way to Cox's town; those, with what new ones may be finished, will be sufficient to bring up what stores are at present there. Every step is taken to expedite the forwarding of the stores, &c.

"I anxiously look forward for the moment when I shall have the pleasure of seeing you.

"And am sincerely, your most Obedient humble servant,
"ADAM HUBLEY.
"LT. Col. Com'g. 11th Regt."

CONTINENTAL LINE.

TWELFTH PENNSYLVANIA.

OCTOBER 1, 1776—JULY 1, 1778. (a)

TWELFTH PENNSYLVANIA REGIMENT. (a.)

Congress, by resolution, authorized this regiment to be raised in the counties of Northampton and Northumberland and among the last acts of the Convention, to form a State Constitution, September 28, 1776, was a choice of its field officers, from its members; William Cook, delegate from Northumberland, colonel; Neigal Gray, delegate from Northampton county; lieutenant colonel, and James Crawford, delegate from Northumberland county, major. Peter Withington was the first captain appointed by the Council of Safety, October 1; by a minute of the Council of October 4, Col. Cooke, Major Crawford, and Capt. Withington took the qualification directed by the Convention, and commissions were delivered them, signed by the President of Congress; and on the same day, by resolution of the Council, Nicholas Miller and Hawkins Boone were appointed captains, Thomas Brandon and Hannaniah Lincoln first lieutenants; Robert King and James Williamson, second lieutenants. On the fourteenth, the Council resolved that the commissions of all the captains and subalterns of the Twelfth shall be dated October 1, 1776, and their rank hereafter settled. On the same day, John Brady and Major John Harris, both of Northumberland county, were appointed captains, and Christopher Gettig, first lieutenant, Francis Allison, surgeon. The rest of the original captains, with other subalterns, were appointed on the 16th of October.—(Col. Records, vol. 10, page 756.)

The greater portion of the regiment was recruited upon the West Branch of the Susquehanna, and on the 18th of December, it left Sunbury, in boats, for the battle-fields of New Jersey. Being composed of good riflemen and scouts, it was detailed on picket and skirmish duty. It (with the Third, Ninth, and Sixth Pennsylvania) was in Brig. Gen. Thomas Conway's brigade. Its headquarters were at the five cross roads at Metuchin, between Quibbletown and Amboy. Its companies wre engaged in the various skirmishes in that neighborhood; ata Bound Brook, April 12, 1777, Piscataway, May 10, where Joseph Lorenz and twenty-one others were made prisoners by the British, Wendell Lorentz making his escape by running in among a flock of sheep; at Short Hills, June 26, and Bonhamtown. In June, Col. Daniel Morgan's rifle command was formed, and a detachment from the Twelfth Pennsylvania, under the command of Capt. Hawkins Boone, was placed in it. For a notice of this command, see Historical note to the First Pennsylvania. In the battle of Brandywine, the Twelfth was engaged under Sullivan at Birmingham church, losing heavily. Major Crawford, Capt. Brady, and other officers were wounded, Lieut. William Boyd, of Brady's company killed. At Germantown, Conway's brigade led the attack on the left wing of the British, being in front of the troops that composed the right wing of the American army, and the Twelfth was in the hottest of the fight, losing heavily in men, second lieutenant John Carothers of the officers killed. The Twelfth wintered with the rest of the army at Valley Forge, and at Monmouth the remnant of it was nearly destroyed, as testified to in many of the statements made by the privates, on file in the office of the Secretary of the Commonwealth. Meanwhile, April 2, 1778, the General Assembly had appointed a committee to confer upon the best means of reducing three of the regiments, and it was ordered that the Twelfth be incorporated with the Third, which arrangement went into effect on the 1st of July, and Capts. John Brady and Boone, Lieuts. Dougherty and Robert King were ordered home by Gen. Washington to assist Col. Hartley in protecting the West Branch valley. Capt. Brady was assassinated by Indian scouts, near the town of Muncy, April 11, 1779, and Capt. Boone fell near Fort Freeland, on the 29th of July, the same year.

The following list embraces but a small portion of the regiment, Capt. Makinley's company alone contained seventy-two men.

CONTINENTAL LINE.

THIRTEENTH PENNSYLVANIA.

NOVEMBER 12, 1777—JULY 1, 1778. (a)

THIRTEENTH PENNSYLVANIA REGIMENT. (a.)

By resolution of Congress, of November 12, 1777, the Pennsylvania State Regiment of Foot was taken into the Continental service as the Thirteenth Pennsylvania. It was known as early as July 6, 1777, (Penn'a Archives, O. S., vol. 5, page 715), as the Thirteenth Pennsylvania. A return, dated Philadelphia, June 20, 1777, signed by Ludwig Sprogell, commissary general of musters, shows present, colonel, lieutenant colonel, two majors, eleven captains, twenty lieutenants, and eleven ensigns, chaplain, surgeon, paymaster, surgeon's mate, adjutant, quarter-master, quarter-master sergeant, sergeant major, drum major, fife major, forty-four sergeants, nine corporals, twenty-two drums and fifes, four hundred and seventy-seven rank and file, fit for duty; sick, present, twelve; sick, at hospital, twenty-one; on command, seventeen; on furlough, ten; deserted, seventy-six; total, six hundred and thirteen.

As full rolls are printed ante, in connection with the State Regiment of Foot, up to the 1st of May, 1777, and these correspond nearly exactly with the columns of sergeants, corporals, drums, and fifes, and present, fit for duty, and no rolls have been found subsequently except Capt. Scott's, it was judged proper to print, in connection with the Thirteenth, only such of the rank and file as we found distinctively marked "13th."

This regiment, under Col. Stewart's command, fought at Brandywine and Germantown. In Col. Stewart's letter, printed in the Penn'a Archives, O. S., vol. v, page 714, he says: My loss in killed and missing in the two actions does not exceed sixteen, besides the wounded; am inclined to think most of the missing are either killed or badly wounded. He submits returns which are printed, ibid., pages 715 and 716, which show only a difference of three men between the periods of these dates, July 6, 1777, and October 27, 1777, but in the latter he returns of officers, nine captains, fourteen lieutenants, and ten ensigns, five staff, and forty-four sergeants, eighteen drums and fifes. He accounts for this by saying, "I have been lucky enough to have received a good many recruits, which is the cause of my being able to keep it up so well." He reports his sick, present, at forty-eight; sick, absent, seventy; on command, sixty-nine; on furlough, three; total, five hundred and thirty-seven rank and file, as against five hundred and forty, July 6, 1777; of the sick, he says, twenty-two are wounded, these I expect will, in a short time, be able to join me. For the part the regiment took in the battle of Germantown, the reader is referred to Col. Stewart's letter to Gen. Gates, in Penn'a Magazine of History, vol. 1, page 400 (1877).

On the 1st of January, 1778, the term of enlistment of Miles' and Atlee's battalions expired, or was so claimed by the men, and many left and were discharged. On the 21st of February-1778, Major Francis Murray and some of the men were captured at Newtown, twenty-four miles from Philadelphia. On the 3d of April, 1778, it being apparent that the men, whose enlistments were made in April and May, 1776, in the original State battalions for two years could be held no longer, the Executive Council resolved to incorporate the Thirteenth with the Second Pennsylvania, and this arrangement went into effect July 1, 1778.

Col. Walter Stewart, the colonel of the Thirteenth, and afterwards of the Second Pennsylvania, was of Irish descent, had a fair, florid complexion, was vivacious, intelligent, and well educated, and it was said was the handsomest man in the American army.—Custis' Recollections. On the 11th of April, 1781, just before starting upon the Southern campaign, with Gen. Wayne, he married a daughter of Blair McClenachan, a prominent patriotic merchant of Philadelphia. He retired the service, January 1, 1783, with the brevet rank of brigadier general. He was afterwards a prominent merchant of Philadelphia, major general of the first division of the Pennsylvania militia. His portrait is full length in Trumbull's picture of the surrender of Cornwallis, on the left of the line of the American officers. He died in Philadelphia, at the early age of forty years, June 14 or 15, 1796, and was buried on the 16th, with the honors of war, the Society of Cincinnati, and the officers of the first division following the corpse as mourners.—Advertiser, June 16, 1796—Letter of Wm. Brooke Rawle, Esq., to the Editors.

ADDITIONAL REGIMENT.

COL. THOMAS HARTLEY'S.

JAN. 11, 1777—JAN. 13, 1779. (a)

COL. THOMAS HARTLEY'S REGIMENT. (a.)

On the 27th of December, 1776, Congress passed a resolution, authorizing Gen. Washington to "raise and collect together, in the most speedy and effectual manner, from any and all of these United States, sixteen battalions of infantry, in addition to those already voted by Congress, and to appoint the officers for the said battalions of infantry, &c." On the 11th of January, 1777, Gen. Washington issued commissions and authority to raise two of these regiments to Lieut. Col. Thomas Hartley, of the Seventh Pennsylvania, and Major John Patton, of Miles' rifle regiment. No returns of either of these regiments have been discovered, and very few memorials of any kind, it is believed, have survived the ravages of fire and time. Hartley's regiment was in the First Pennsylvania brigade, Gen. Wayne's division, Hartley commanding the brigade, in the battles of Brandywine and Germantown. What its actual strength was cannot be told. After these actions, November 1, 1777, Morgan Connor makes a requisition for one hundred and fifty blankets for the regiment. It is very apparent that the regiment did heavy fighting at Brandywine, from its loss of officers and men. For the campaign of 1778, on the West Branch, reference is made to Col. Hartley's report to Congress, printed in Penn'a Archives, O. S., vol. vii, page 5, and Col. Hartley's letters, in ibid., vol. vi. The regiment was ordered to Sunbury, about the 14th of July, 1778, and remained in service on the West Branch, until incorporated with the new Eleventh.

On the 16th of December, 1778, Congress resolved that Col. Hartley's regiment, and the four independent companies raised in the State of Pennsylvania, commanded by Capts. Doyle, Wilkins, Steel, and Calderwood, and also the remains of Col. Patton's regiment, except Capt. McLane's company, be incorporated into one regiment, and added to the Pennsylvania Line as an Eleventh regiment, and that Capt. McLane's company be annexed to the Delaware regiment; subsequently, January 13, 1779, this action was reconsidered, and it was resolved "that the regiment lately commanded by Col. Patton, (Capt. McLane, his subalterns, and men raised in the Delaware State excepted), and the independent companies raised in Pennsylvania, and afterwards annexed to Col. Malcolm's regiment, be incorporated with Col. Hartley's regiment; the whole to form a complete battalion upon the new establishment, and be added to the Pennsylvania Line as the Eleventh Regiment of that State; that the several officers be arranged by the Board of War, and enjoy their rank according to their commissions or appointments, respectively."

Col. Thomas Hartley was born near Reading, Berks county, September 7, 1748, and removed to York, Pennsylvania, when eighteen years of age, where he studied law and was admitted to the bar July 25, 1769. The sources of information are so full in regard to him that the editors deem it only necessary to refer to Carter's and Glossbrenner's History of York county, and the records of our State and National councils for evidences of his brilliant career as a soldier, lawyer, and statesman. It is proper to add, however, that it is from his numerous letters among the Yeates papers, published anonymously in Force's Archives, that full information upon the Canada campaign has been obtained, and but for his letters, to be found in the Penn'a Archives, Old Series, very little would be known of military operations on the West Branch in 1778-1779. He died at York, Pennsylvania, December 21, 1800, and was buried in the burial-ground of the church of St. John, in that place.

Lieut. Col. James Wilkinson served as a subaltern officer in Thompson's Rifle regiment before Boston. Gen. Washington appointed him lieutenant colonel of this regiment; but he seems, shortly after, to have resigned to take the position of adjutant general of Pennsylvania, with the rank of brigadier general, and was transferred to the northern army as adjutant general for Gen. Gates. His resignation as brigadier general and adjutant general of Pennsylvania will be found in Penn'a Archives, O. S., vol. x, page 610, without date; accepted, however, November 8, 1784. For further particulars of him, reference is made to his voluminous memoirs, which contain many interesting references to Pennsylvania troops and officers, both in the campaign in Canada in 1776, and that against Burgoyne in 1777.

Lieut. Col. Morgan Connor was also among the first to enter the service of his country as a lieutenant of Capt. George Nagel's company, in Col. Thompson's regiment. After the campaign of 1775-6, he was ordered south as brigade major for Gen. John Armstrong, with the rank of major. On his return, he succeeded Lieut. Col. Wilkinson, and, after the latter's resignation, became lieutenant colonel. In 1779, he claimed the rank of lieutenant colonel commandant of the new Eleventh. —See Hubley's Correspondence in Historical Note to New Eleventh. Subsequently he was made lieutenant colonel commandant of the Seventh. By a letter printed in Penn'a Archives, O. S., vol. viii, page 515, it appears that he was lost at sea in August, 1780. At all events, in 1782 his estate was administered upon.

For notices of Maj. Evan Edwards, reference is made to the biographies of Gen. Charles Lee, to whom he was an aid.

In a manuscript letter from Col. Hartley to Council, dated June 19, 1784, he says of Capt. Andrew Walker, "he entered the service with me, and, on account of his merit, was appointed captain in my regiment, and whilst under my command he was a punctual, brave, and deserving officer, and acquitted himself with the highest reputation."

Capt. Archibald McAllister, died January 16, 1831, aged seventy-four years nine months and nine days, at his place called Fort Hunter, six miles above Harrisburg, where he is buried in a private burying ground. His roll as far as preserved, was taken from an old company account book, loaned the editors by his grandson, James, who resides near the old homestead.

ADDITIONAL REGIMENT.

COL. JOHN PATTON'S.

JAN. 11, 1777—JAN. 13, 1779. (a)

COL. JOHN PATTON'S REGIMENT. (a.)

As stated in the note to Hartley's, this was one of the sixteen additional regiments established upon a different footing from the eighty-eight regiments which were apportioned among the several States. The appointment of the officers was left to the Commander-in-chief, and he was empowered to raise the men in any or all of the United States. See Spark's Life and Writings of Washington, vol. iv, page 271, where will be found Col. Gist's commission and instructions. Those for the other colonels were similar.

Col. Patton being from Philadelphia, his regiment drew contributions, both in officers and men, from New Jersey, and Delaware. The memoranda, which are scant, refer altogether to Pennsylvanians. It is uncertain whether Lieut. Joseph Davis did not belong to Patton's, as he was a brother-in-law. His name, wherever it occurs, has "Hartley regiment" to it, but that may be because he was killed after Patton's was consolidated into Hartley's. There are a number of officers put in a list by themselves, postea, for the reason of uncertainty as to which regiment they belonged, because, though afterwards arranged in the new Eleventh, they should have credit for serving in 1777 and 1778.

Col. Patton was born in Sligo, Ireland, in 1745, and resided in Philadelphia when appointed major of Col. Miles' battalion. After his resignation, in November, 1777, he was employed to purchase flour for the army. After the war he went into the iron business in connection with Col. Miles, and built Centre furnace, late in Harris township, Centre county, in 1792. He died there, in 1804, aged about fifty-seven, and is buried in the church-yard at Boalsburg. Col. Patton was six feet in height, of noble appearance and carriage, his hair red and eyes hazel. He had a fine address, with a very polished manner. His widow, Jane Davis, of Montgomery county, died in Huntingdon, Pennsylvania, in 1832, aged eighty years. She was a sister of Capt. Benjamin Davis, and also of Capt. Joseph Davis, who was killed by the savages while the regiment was on its way to join Gen. Sullivan's expedition.

Lawrence Keene, one of Col. Patton's captains, acted as aid to Gen. Mifflin. He was subsequently captain in the Third Pennsylvania, and was appointed prothonotary of Northumberland county, September 25, 1783, and died in Sunbury in July, 1789. His wife, Gainor Lukens, was a daughter of John Lukens, Surveyor General of the State.

PENNSYLVANIANS

IN

COL. HAZEN'S REGIMENT,

"CONGRESS' OWN."

1776—1783. (a)

COL. HAZEN'S REGIMENT. (a.)

Col. Moses Hazen's regiment, known as "Congress' Own" and Canadian Old regiment, was raised under the authority of a resolution of Congress of January 20, 1776, to enlist one thousand more Canadians for one year (one having already been established under Col. James Livingston). January 22d, Moses Hazen was elected colonel, and Edward Antill, lieutenant colonel, by Congress. It went by the name of "Congress' Own," because not attached to the quota of any of the States. During the spring of 1776, about five hundred men were raised, but on the evacuation of Canada, the number so decreased, that when the regiment arrived at Albany, in August, 1776, it was reduced to less than one hundred. Hazen and Antill then went to Philadelphia to lay the state of the regiment before Congress. It was decided to continue it upon its original foundation; the men to serve during the war. The officers were authorized to raise the men in any and all of the United States. Lieut. Col. Antill superintended the recruiting in Pennsylvania and the Middle States, and the recruits chiefly consisted of men from those States, Col. Hazen meeting with no success in the Eastern States and New York, on account of high bounties there offered.

For a detailed history of this regiment, see autobiography of its adjutant, late Benjamin Mooers, of Plattsburg, New York, in Historical Magazine, February, 1872, page 92. The winter of 1780-81, it remained at Fishkill, New York, thence it removed to West Point, from which place it moved down the Hudson and joined the army en route to Yorktown, where it took part in the siege, after which it was ordered to Lancaster, where it lay ten months guarding the prisoners; thence it removed to New York; began to be furloughed in June, 1783, and was finally disbanded at White Plains, in November of that year.

In Col. Hazen's memorial, printed on pages 17, 18, 19, Penn'a Archives, old series, vol. viii, will also be found a very interesting history of the regiment up to November 30, 1779. By a letter from the officers, noted in proceedings of Executive Council, December 29, 1779, it appears there were one hundred and fifty-three, officers included, Pennsylvanians in this regiment at that date. See, also, Capt. Andrew Lee's diary in the Penn'a Magazine of History, 1879, page 167, for an account of regiment in Sullivan's expedition to Staten Island, August 22, 1777.

CONTINENTAL LINE.

THE GERMAN REGIMENT.

JULY 12, 1776—JANUARY 1, 1781. (a)

THE GERMAN REGIMENT. (a)

The German regiment originated from a resolution of Congress June 27, 1776, directing four companies of Germans to be raised in Pennsylvania,* and four companies in Maryland, to compose "the German battalion," the companies to serve for three years, unless sooner discharged. Nicholas Haussegger, major of the Fourth battalion (Wayne's), was commissioned colonel, and Pennsylvania furnished by far the largest number, both of its officers and recruits. None of its regular rolls have survived, and the list is made up from returns of those who belonged to Pennsylvania as found in the Secretary's office. The regiment was in the field and engaged at Trenton and Princeton, and in May, 1777, was in Deborre's brigade, Sullivan's division. The colonel left the army after the battle of Monmouth, and returned to his farm near Lebanon, Pa. Lt. Col. Weltner succeeded to the command. The regiment took part in Sullivan's campaign against the Indians. In the spring of 1780 it was stationed on the frontiers of Northumberland county. By a resolution of Congress in October the German regiment was reduced, and ended its organization January 1, 1781. All the correspondence relative to this regiment found in the Secretary's office has been published in the old series of Archives, except the following orders found among the Hand papers:

Gen. Hand to Major Burchardt.

"Minisink, 5th April, 1779.

"Sir: Agreeable to the orders you yesterday rec'd you will proceed to Wyoming, on the Susquehanna River, with the Regiment under your Immediate Command, Col. Armand's and Capt. Schott's corps, the former is commanded at present by Major Lomaign & the latter by Capt'n Selin. These corps will join you at or before you reach Col. Stroud's, at Fort Penn, as you will see by their Orders, left open for your persual, & which you will have delivered. You must take with you from here all the flour now left in store, and Beef sufficient to carry the Detachment thro' to Wyoming; you will receive an additional supply of Flour at Col. Stroud's. Take care that each corps takes with them the provisions they have respectively drawn. You will receive a few Camp Kettles for the Detachment at Col. Stroud's, and may draw 20 Axes for your Regiment, 6 for Armand's & 3 for Schott's here.

*Subsequently increased to five.

"It will take you four days from Col. Stroud's to Wyoming; you will, therefore, regulate your Provision accordingly. Capt'n Alex'r Patterson, A. D. Q. M., will send express to Col. Zebulon Butler, commanding at Wyoming, with notice of your Approach. From Fort Penn you will march to Lardner's; thence to an Incamping Place in what is Commonly cal'd the Great Swamp; the third day to Bullock's, which is within five miles of Wyoming Garrison, where for the present you will put yourself under Col. Butler's directions.

"I am thus Particular, as It will be necessary to make easie marches in order to reconnoitre the Country well and examine every thicket & hollow way, or swamp before you enter it, which I desire you may be very particular in doing to prevent being Surprised or led into an Ambuscade or attack'd without previous knowledge of the Enemy's being near. You will be particularly attentive to keep the Body of the Troops compact. Suffer no straggling on any account; keep a proper advance & rear Guard, tho' not at too great a distance, and also small parties on your Flanks, observing the same caution. Should any enemy appear, you must take care not to advance on them precipitately before you know their numbers, or until you have sufficiently extended your front to prevent being out-Flanked.

"By a steddy adherence to the above directions, you will have little danger to apprehend double your attention as you approach the Fort. As the badness of the Roads at present and the scarcity of horses will prevent your carrying your heavy Baggage, you must leave it at Fort Penn with a Guard until you have a more favorable opportunity.

"Relying much on your Steddyness, Industry, Zeal, and Activity, I wish you a Good march, and

"Am sir, your obed't serv't,

EDW'D HAND.

"Major DANL. BURCHARDT, German Reg't."

PENNSYLVANIA
REGIMENT OF CAVALRY.
COLONEL STEPHEN MOYLAN.

1777—1783. (a)

PENNSYLVANIA REGIMENT OF CAVALRY. (a.)

Col. Stephen Moylan was born in Ireland, in 1734, and upon the recommendation of John Dickinson, Esq., was placed in the commissary department in the army before Boston, in 1775. On the 5th of June, 1776, Congress elected him quartermaster general, with the rank of colonel, which office he resigned October 1, 1776. He then raised his cavalry regiment which was an independent organization, the Officers of which were not all from Pennsylvania, but the men were all raised in Pennsylvania.—General St. Clair's letter, Archives, O. S., vol. vii, page 666. They were enlisted in 1777, their term expiring the last of September, 1780, when only eleven men were credited as its quota for the war. In the spring of 1781, its ranks were recruited to eighty men, who went southward in detachments to join Gen. Wayne.—See correspondence in Archives, O. S., vol. ix, pages 267, 321. For an interesting notice of Col. Moylan and Capt. Heard, see Chastelleux's Travels, vol. i, pages 142 and 155. Col. Molyan retired at the close of the war with the rank of brevet brigadier general and died in Philadelphia, April 11, 1811; buried in St. Mary's church-yard, south Fourth street, Philadelphia.

ARMAND'S
FIRST PARTISAN LEGION.

1777—1783. (a)

ARMAND'S PARTISAN LEGION. (a.)

Congress, on the 10th of May, 1777, commissioned Armand, colonel, and authorized him to raise a corps of Frenchmen, not exceeding two hundred. On the 5th of February, 1779, he applied to Congress, and received leave to return to France, where he largely recruited his corps, and returned. October 3, 1780, Congress determined that on the 1st of January, 1781, such of the sixteen additional regiments as had not been annexed to the line of some particular State, and all the separate light corps of the army, both horse and foot, should be reduced except Col. Hazen's regiment, Col. Armand's legion, and Major Lee's corps. With the exception of the incorporation of Pulaski's legion with it, it therefore remained intact until the close of the war. Charles Armand was Marquis de la Rouerie, who concealed his rank, combatting an unsuccessful love, by throwing himself headlong into the channel of war. (Lafayette's Memoirs, vol. i, page 119.) He was prominent in the fight at Red Bank, in 1777, and opposed the Tories in West Chester county, New York. Was stationed in Ridgfield, Connecticut, in 1779; under Gates in the south; pursued Cornwallis to Yorktown; made a brigadier in 1783, on Washington's recommendation. He took an active part in the scenes of the French revolution, and died in 1793. For more extended biographical sketches of Col. Armand, and a brief resume of his services, see Rattermann's Deutsche Pionier, vol. viii, page 437, and The Penn'a Magazine of History, vol. ii, page 1.

A return among the Hand papers, entitled "Return of the Independent Corps of Cavalrie and of Foot, commanded by Col. Armand, Minesing, December 28, 1778," gives the strength of the corps as follows:

Light dragoons, Capt.	Marckle,	19
"	Shaffner,	34
"	Sigoigne,	23
"	de Bert,	19
Total,		95

ARMAND'S PARTISAN LEGION. (c.)

PENNSYLVANIANS

IN

PULASKI'S LEGION.

1778—1783. (a)

PENNSYLVANIANS IN PULASKI'S LEGION. (a.)

By a resolution of Congress, passed the 28th of March, 1778, Count Casimir Pulaski was authorized to raise and organize a corps of sixty-eight light horse and two hundred foot. This was known as Pulaski's Legion, and was recruited chiefly in Pennsylvania and Maryland. For extended notices of that eminent patriot, reference is made to Spark's American Biography, vol. iv, p. 369-446; and Lossing's Field Book, vol. ii, p. 529. According to the Bethlehem Diary, Pulaski arrived there on the 16th of April, 1778, and mention is made of him on the 18th of May following. It was during this interval that the banner, which forms a frontispiece to this volume, was made.* For years it was received as a fact that the banner has been presented the gallant Pole by the Moravian single sisters of Bethlehem, as a token of their gratitude for the protection Pulaski had afforded them, surrounded as they were by a rough and uncouth soldiery, but recent investigations go to show that the General, on visiting the Sisters' house, saw their beatiful embroidery, and that he then ordered them to prepare a small cavalry banner for his legion, and that the whole transaction was a simple business one. Be this as it may, the banner is one of historic interest and value, and the truth does not detract from the romantic associations clustering around it. When Pulaski fell mortally wounded, before Savannah, in the autumn of 1779, Paul Bentalon, of Baltimore, one of his captains, was beside him, and was carried with him on board the United States brig Wasp, and was with him when he died. Pulaski was not buried on land, as Lossing says, but, according to Bentalon who was present, was consigned to a watery grave. The banner was secured by Capt. Bentalon, and for more than forty years was hid from the public eye. It subsequently passed into the possession of the Maryland Historical Society, where it now remains. The editors are indebted to the Rev. E. A. Dalrymple, D. D., of Baltimore, for the following description and present condition of it:

"The Banner is twenty inches square and was attached to a lance when borne on the field. Externally it is of a dingy brown on both sides. It is composed of two pieces, and by separating them, which is easily done, inasmuch as the sewing has ripped asunder, the original colors are very readily and certainly determined. 1. The ground, or piece of silk for both sides, is crimson. 2. The exploding hand grenades in the four corners of the banner are bright yellow silk, relieved with white, to show distinction in the flames. 3. The ball of the eye is light brown; the pupil is dark brown. 4. The rays around the eye are bright yellow. 5. The letters are yellow and shaded with green, that is the letters are two-thirds of bright yellow silk and one-third of green silk; the 'U. S.' the same. 6. The bordering near the edges of the banner is bright yellow and green, exactly like the letters. 7. The fringe was of silver, or some white bullion; it is (or was) metallic, though now tarnished or dark. 8. The stars are bright yellow."

As will be seen by reference to the banner, on one side are the letters "U. S." and, in a circle around them, the words "Unitas Virtus Forcior." "Union makes valor stronger." The letter C in the last word is incorrect; it should be a T. On the other side, in the center, is the All-seeing Eye, with the words "Non Alius Regit." "No other Governs." The poet Longfellow has thrown around this banner of Pulaski such a charm and beauty, that, were not his verses so wanting in historic truth, we should be tempted to quote them.

With the death of Pulaski, his legion was merged into other corps. On the 29th of November, Congress voted a monument to the memory of the Polish patriot which was never erected; but one was subsequently raised by the citizens of Savannah, of which Gen. Lafayette, during his triumphal progress through the United States, laid the corner stone.

LEE'S PARTISAN CORPS.

1778—1783. (a)

LEE'S PARTISAN CORPS. (a.)

Lee's Partisan Legion, so called, was a separate corps of cavalry, under the command of the celebrated Maj. Henry Lee, of Virginia, the "Light Horse Harry" of the Revolution. The legion distinguished itself in the South and was the scourge of Tarleton and the loyalists of the Carolinas, serving until the close of the war. Dr. Matthew Irvine was the principal Pennsylvania officer connected with it, concerning whom, in Lee's Memoirs, vol. ii, page 13, there is the following reference:

"Such was Dr. Skinner's unvarying objection to Irvine's custom of risking his life whenever he was with the corps going into action; that kind and amiable as he was, he saw with pleasure that his prediction, often communicated to Irvine to stop his practice (which, contrasted with his own, Skinner felt as a bitter reproach), was at length realized when Irvine was brought in wounded, and he would not dress his wounds, altnough from his station he had the preference, until he had finished all the privates; reprehending with asperity Irvine's custom, and sarcastically complimenting him every now and and then with the honorable scar he might hereafter show."

THE CORPS

OF

COUNT VON OTTENDORFF.

1776—1780. (a)

BARON DE OTTENDORFF'S CORPS. (a.)

Armand's Legion (see record of, postea) was originally recruited by Baron de Ottendorff as a troop of light infantry, but on account of the scarcity of well-disciplined cavalry, it changed into a dragoon corps. Nicholas Dietrich, Baron de Ottendorff, was a nobleman from Lusatia, Saxony, and had served in the "Seven Years' War," as a lieutenant, under Frederick the Great. Upon the close of that war, he went to Paris, where he associated with Kosciuzko and Roman de Lisle. At the breaking out of the Revolution, these three warriors came together to America to assist the colonies in their struggle for independence. Kosciuszko entered the staff of General Washington. De Lisle was made captain of artillery, and Ottendorff, at the request of Gen. Washington, by a resolution of Congress on November 8, 1776, was "appointed a brevet-captain in the service of the United States." By a resolution of the day subsequent, he was "ordered to repair to Headquarters, near the Great Plains, and put himself under the command of Gen. Washington." On the 5th of December following, Congress "directed Capt. Ottendorff to raise an independent corps, consisting of 150 men, sergeants, and corporals included; that the same be divided into three companies, the first to consist of 60 men, light infantry, to be commanded by one captain and two lieutenants; the other two companies of hunters, of 45 men each, to be commanded each by a captain and two lieutenants; that Captain Ottendorff have the rank of major, be captain of the light-infantry company, and command the whole; that an adjutant be appointed for this corps who is to act as quartermaster and paymaster, with the rank of lieutenant and pay of other adjutants." Major Ottendorff began the recruiting with great energy, and in the spring of 1777 the complement of the corps was filled. The three companies were all raised in Pennsylvania, and continued in service until 1780. Of Ottendorff's subsequent career little is known. Upon the merging of the corps into Armand's Legion, Lieut. Henry Bedkin took command of the first company and it is probable Ottendorff had previously left the service and returned to Europe. —(See Ratterman's Pioneer, vol. vii, p 449.)

PROVOST GUARD.
VON HEER'S LIGHT DRAGOONS.

JUNE 1, 1778—NOVEMBER 3, 1783. (a)

VON HEER'S LIGHT DRAGOONS. (a.)

Von Heer's troop was organized under a resolution of Congress of May 27, 1778, establishing a Provost, to consist of a captain, four lieutenants, one clerk, quarter-master sergeant, two trumpeters, two sergeants, five corporals, forty-three provosts or privates, and four ex-carboniers; they were mounted and accoutered as light dragoons. A summary of their duties was included in orders dated October 10, 1778 (see orderly book, postea); they were to apprehend deserters, rioters, and stragglers. In battle they were posted in the rear to secure fugutives. In short, their duties were the usual ones of a provost guard, and the corps was styled the Troop of Marechausse. Capt. Bartholomew Von Heer resigned from Procter's artillery to take this command, and in some papers he is styled "Provost Marshal of the Continental Army." The men were all recruited in Pennsylvania—Washington's letter, Penn'a Archives, O. S., ix, page 486.

IN THE

COMMANDER-IN-CHIEF'S GUARD.

1776—1783. (a)

COMMANDER-IN-CHIEF'S GUARD. (a.)

This corps was organized by Gen. Washington in 1776, while the army was at New York, and consisted of a major's command, one hundred and eighty men. Caleb Gibbs, of Rhode Island, was its first chief, with the title of captain commandant. By an order dated at Valley Forge, March 17, 1778, one hundred chosen men were to be annexed to the guard, for the purpose of forming a corps "to be instructed in maneuvres to be introduced into the army, and to serve as a model for the execution of them. As the General's guard is composed of Virginians, the one hundred draughts will be taken from the troops of other States. Height of men from five feet eight to five feet ten; age, from twenty to thirty, and men of established character for sobriety and fidelity. They must be American born."—See Stryker's New Jersey Register, page 60, for copy of the order.

In 1779, William Colfax, grandfather of Schuyler Colfax, late Vice President of the United States, succeeded Major Gibbs in the command. There are two returns in the archives at Harrisburg—one by Major Gibbs, and the second made by Capt. Colfax. The following list is collated from both. Capt. Colfax's return, dated New Windsor, April 8, 1781, embraces all the names except those of John Arundell, John Berry, Thomas Blair, Hugh Hagerty, Isaac Howell, and John Pillar. He certifies that all on his list are present except William Simmons, sick at Norristown.

For an exhaustive notice of the guard, see Dr. Lossing's article in the Historical Magazine, New York, May, 1858.

Continental Line.

Pennsylvania Artillery.

OCT. 21, 1775—OCT. 27, 1776. (a)

CAPT. THOMAS PROCTER'S ARTILLERY COMPANY. (a.)

Captain Thomas Procter's artillery company originated from a resolution of the Committee of Safety, dated October 16, 1775, for raising an artillery company, to be placed at Fort Island, to consist of one captain, one lieutenant, one drum and fife, and twenty-five privates, to serve the Province twelve months, unless sooner discharged. On the 27th of October, upon his own application, Mr. Thomas Procter was appointed captain. On the 3d of November, his company was received into the barracks at Philadelphia, and furnished with the bedding, "late belonging to the Royal artillery company," &c. The rules and regulations governing the company, will be found in Colonial Records, vol. x, page 391. On the 8th of December, Capt. Procter, and Lieut. Francis Procter were dismissed the service, on account of a difficulty with some officers of Col. Bull's battalion, and on the 27th, Lieut. Simonds was put in command, and the company ordered to Liberty Island. On the 28th, however, Capt. Procter was restored to command. Early in April, 1776, the company being stationed on Fort Island, was increased in number to one hundred and twenty men, and on the 14th of August, his force was augmented to two hundred men, to be formed into two companies with one commanding officer, with the rank of major, each company to have one captain lieutenant and three lieutenants, and Capt. Procter was promoted major. On the 5th of October, a detachment of fifty men under Capt. Strobagh, was ordered to Fort Montgomery, Lieut. Procter, of Forrest's company, to accompany. On the 30th of October, 1776, the terms of many of the men expired, Maj. Procter was directed to re-enlist them for the war, and a bounty of ten dollars was allowed therefor. The company remained at Fort Island until about the 25th of December, when part of it was ordered over into New Jersey, with Capt. Forrest and Lieuts. Duffey and Emes, and took part in the capture of the Hessians at Trenton. See these letters, Penn'a Archives, O. S., vol. v, page 142. Maj. Procter joined this command, leaving Lieuts. Courtenay and Emes in command at Fort Island, and took part in the battle of Princeton, where he captured a brass six-pounder, which he presented to the State of Pennsylvania. He was joined at Morristown on the 16th of January, 1777, by Capt. Strobagh's company. On the 17th, Gen. Knox left for New England, leaving Maj. Procter in command of all the Continental artillery. On the 20th of February, Maj. Procter received news at Morristown of the resolution for the establishment of a regiment of artillery, and of his appointment to the command.

CAPT. BERNARD ROMANS' COMPANY. (a.)

This company of matrosses as it was called, was raised in the Province of Pennsylvania, under the authority of a resolution of Congress, for the service of the United States in Canada, (Minutes of Council of Safety, January 29, 1776, Col. Records, vol. x, page 470), and its officers appointed by the Council, ibid., 479. It afterwards went by the name of Gibbs Jones' company, but no records of it have been found except the roll hereafter printed, which seems to have been furnished the Council, in pursuance of a resolution of March 21, 1780, ibid., vol. xii, page 286, which embraced, of course, only the names of the officers and men at the latter date. The matter in brackets added from scattered memoranda in the Records and Archives.

ROLL OF CAPT. GIBBS JONES' Company.

REGIMENT OF ARTILLERY.

FEB. 6, 1777—NOV. 3, 1783. (a)

PENNSYLVANIA STATE REGIMENT OF ARTILLERY. (a.)

Procter's artillery regiment, as it was usually denominated, was a regiment of artillery raised for the defense of the State of Pennsylvania, under a resolution of the Council of Safety, dated February 6, 1777, to consist of a colonel, lieutenant colonel, major, eight captains, eight first lieutenants, eight second lieutenants, eight lieutenant fire-workers, paymaster, surgeon, &c., thirty-two sergeants, thirty-two corporals, eight drummers, eight fifers, twelve musicians, and four hundred and eighty privates. See Col. Records, vol. xi, page 116. By a subsequent resolution, February 28, 1777, ibid., page 136, it was to serve in any part of the United States during the war. Maj. Procter's command, which was its nucleus, was in service, and had its first disaster at Bound Brook, New Jersey, April 13, 1777, where Lieuts. Ferguson and Turnbull were captured, with twenty privates and two pieces of artillery. Its next disaster was at the battle of Brandywine, where Procter bravely maintained his position at Chadd's Ford, until the defeat of the right wing forced his retreat, with the loss of some guns and ammunition. At Germantown, on the 4th of October, 1777, a portion of the regiment was engaged under Capt. Lt. Brewer; Lieuts. Barker and Ritter, having charge of the guns. According to William McMullen's statement, Barker had a six-pound cannon stationed on the main street, nearly opposite Chew's house, " the report of which was so sharp, that it caused the blood to run from his ears." No regimental returns have been found prior to September 3, 1778, when by resolution of Congress, Procter's regiment was made part of the quota of troops to be furnished by the State of Pennsylvania, which was to be credited for the men now in the regiment, and also for any that should thereafter be recruited therein. From its necessarily detached service very little of the history of the regiment has survived; but detachments from it were engaged in nearly all of the operations of the main army, subsequently notably at Monmouth and in Sullivan's campaign of 1779. The following data are gathered from such returns as were accessible, supplemented by the correspondence of Capt. Isaac Craig, furnished by his grandson, Isaac Craig, Esq., of Allegheny city, Penna'a.

Gen. Gates to the Artillery Officers.

War Office, April 28th, 1778.

Gentlemen: The Board have been favored with your Certificate of yesterday, in Favor of Capt. Coren's Conduct, with Regard to you. We are always happy when Enquiries into the Characters & Behavior of Officers in the Service of their Country, turn out favorable. We deem your testimony fully satisfactory as to Capt. Coren, but are sorry any Officers under his command are in a Situation to be under the Necessity, by any Appearance, "of concealing their Ignorance." Either Mr. Coren has not been so communicative as he ought to have been, or they have been inattentive to Matters daily passing before them. Perhaps, too, they have been indolent or too much above their Business to employ themselves, Manually, in it. Practical Arts are not to be learnt by Speculation. No Person, in our Opinion, by merely viewing a complex Machine, altho' he should attend to its Parts never so minutely, either in the whole or by Detail, could at once produce, of his own Manufacture, a similar one. Practice must complete what Speculation only begins. The Knowledge you have gained, it is expected, of the Laboratory Art, as well as your Experience in Life, must convince you of the Truth of these general Positions. And as you are sent to obtain a perfect Knowledge of the Business, not only on your own account, but to promulgate it thro' the States, the Board make no Doubt of your diligently & manually applying yourselves to the Task you have undertaken. We have too good an Opinion of you all to suppose it will be necessary to impress this Sentiment upon you; because should there be any who are negligent or averse to being taught, the Board are Satisfied, as Men regarding the Interest of your Country, you would return to your other Duty, & put some other Person in a situation so desirable as that you are now in. The time you have been at Carlisle was one Argument with the Board, added to their anxiety to have the Laboratory Art more generally Known, which induced them to write to Capt. Coren on the subject, & we shall be happy to hear, on your Return to Camp, as we no Doubt we shall, that the Knowledge you have gained by your residence at Carlisle is equal to the Expectation formed when the Measure of sending you there was adopted. If there is any Inequality in your Acquirements, it will be found that those know most who have done most Work. The greatest military Characters have thought Nothing too minute or too laborious. The great Turenne carried a Musket for a twelve month, and the Czar Peter was not satisfied with seeing a ship built, but employed himself as a common labourer in the lowest and most laborious Parts of the Business. We have, from an anxious Desire that you should gain every possible Knowledge of the Laboratory Art, gone farther into this Subject than was necessary, more especially as you were selected by His Excellency General Washington's express Directions, as Persons who would diligently attend to the Matter you have undertaken. The Board, therefore, can have no Doubt but that you will use every Exertion, as the Eyes of so many are upon you.

I am, with Regard, your obed. Servant,

HORATIO GATES,
President.

Instructions to the Artillery.

Morristown, January 14, 1780.

Sir: You are to take the direction of two 5½ howitzers, and four 6-pounders, which are to be taken from the Park. As the ammunition for the howitzers is in your possession, you are to take the whole of it agreeable to the return you made to me, and ten case-shot for each and flannel cartridge must be added. If you have no case-shot, Sergt. Briant of the 3d battalion has the charge of some, which are in Lieut. Elmer's hns. It must be equally divided, and put into two sleds or waggons, or tumbrilles if sleds cannot be provided. Each 6-pounder must have 70 round-shot fixed, and 20 case, with a full proportion of tube, port-fires, &c., also an ax.

You will have delivered to you some fire-balls for the howitzers, and some bavins or reeds which you will use, if you are ordered to set fire to any buildings. There are to be two officers, and twenty-two non-commissioned and privates to each piece, which is also to have two setts of drag-ropes. You will have drawn immediately three days' baked bread and salt provisions, and rum. If sleds can be provided, the ammunition waggons (one for each piece), are to be placed on them to transport the ammunition.

The cannon also are to be placed on sleds and drawn to the place of action, and there taken off, but as soon as the firing shall be finished, to be put on again; for which reason the sleds must be used as limbers, and put in the charge of a trusty sergeant. If this method should not be thought to be the best, the horses must be put to the cannon at the place you shall receive your further orders from Lord Stirling. Sleds will also be provided, if possible to transport the officers and men, in order to prevent their being too much fatigued.

As soon as you have everything in readiness, which must be by twelve or one o'clock this day, at farthest, you will proceed to Elizabeth Town, and wait on Lord Stirling, who will be there, or Gen. Irvine, for further orders.*

You will easily perceive, by the tenor of these instructions, that the service you are going upon is a secret. You must not, therefore as you value your reputation as a soldier and a man of honor, give the least information, directly or indirectly, either to officer, soldier, or any other person, of the place of your destination or your suspicion of the service you are going upon. If you are asked any questions, you may tell them it is expected the enemy are coming out, and you are going upon the line to join the troops, to be in readiness to receive them.

*Your march must be so regulated as to be at Elizabeth Town by ten or eleven o'clock this night.

You will inform Lord Stirling or Gen. Irvine that you have the combustibles before mentioned.

It will be highly proper, if there be any public forage at Springfield, that you should put some on your sleds to feed your horses when you halt.

H. KNOX,
B. G. Artillery.

From a general return of the Pennsylvania regiments of artillery, March 29, 1780, signed by Samuel Storey, lieutenant and adjutant, it appears there were on the rolls the colonel, lieutenant colonel, six captains, six captain lieutenants, two first lieutenants, pay-master, quarter-master, surgeon, sergeant major, quarter-master sergeant, clerk, fifer major, drum major, nine in band, ten sergeants, eleven corporals, nine bombardiers, fourteen gunners, nineteen drum and fife, eighty-two matrosses, total one hundred and eighty-nine.

Board of War to Capt. Craig.

War Office, April 20, 1780.

Sir: In answer to your request of this day for sundry matters relative to your march to Fort Pitt, we have to inform you—

Forage is to be obtained in the usual way at the several posts by application to the quarter and forage-masters.

You have herewith an order on the several quarter-masters to supply you with the necessary teams and carriages for conveying to Fort Pitt the artillery and stores under your care, and a particular order on Col. Davis, at Carlisle, for that purpose, and the supply of horse shoes and any other articles necessary for repairing the carriages on the way.

The eight men of Capt. Coren's company at Carlisle and Fort Pitt or other place westward of Philadelphia, you will take with you, and cause them to do duty in your company, subject, however, to the future orders of the board or of the Commander-in-Chief.

As we expect, in a few days, a complete arrangement of the artillery, we think it inexpedient, at this time, to issue a commission to Capt. Lieut. Lloyd. As soon as we get the arrangement we will make out and transmit his commission.

We have no money, nor can we get any to defray the expenses of your march. If Col. Flower, C. G. of U. S., thinks it reasonable to make you an allowance for conducting the artillery and stores to Fort Pitt, we shall not object to it; the money so allowed you to be applied in the same manner as if given to a conductor of military stores.

We are, Sir, your most obed't servants,

By order of ye board,

TIM'Y PICKERING.

Capt. Isaac Craig.

Board of War to Capt. Craig.

War Office, April 20th, 1780.

Sir: You, having under your charge a quantity of artillery & artillery stores destined for Fort Pitt, all quarter-masters and forage-masters on the route are hereby directed to furnish you with the necessary forage for your horses, and also with horses to replace any that shall fail on the march. We expect you will use this order with great prudence & economy, that the distresses of the public may not be increased, but in case of absolute necessity.

We are, Sir, y'r obed't Servants,

By order of ye board,

TIM'Y PICKERING,

Capt. Isaac Craig,
4th regt. artillery.

Orders of the Supreme Executive Council.

In Council, Philadelphia, April 24th, 1780.

To all concerned:

Capt. Craig, ordered by his Excellency Gen'l Washington, to Pittsburgh, with artillery and stores, applied to the Council for aid and assistance therein; on consideration, Ordered, That the Lieutenants, Sub-Lieutenants, Justices of the Peace, and others of the respective counties thro' which Capt. Craig shall pass, do give him such aid & assistance in transporting the said stores & artillery as the occasion may require.

Extract from the minutes:

T. MATLACK,
Sec'y.

Col. Broadhead to Capt. Craig.

Head Quarters, Fort Pitt, May 13, 1780.

Sir: It is some weeks since his Excellency, the Commander-in-Chief, and the Honorable Board of War wrote me that you were ordered to this department with a number of cannon and military stores. I am aware of the difficulties you must meet with in obtaining carriage, &c., to enable you to proceed expeditiously, yet as the enemy are very troublesome to the settlement, and it is becoming highly expedient for me to counteract their designs by some offensive operation, I must request you to exert yourself as much as possible to reach this point before the 1st of June. It will be very hazardous to come up the Pennsylvania road, wherefore you are to come up the Virginia road, and if you find that the artillery and stores will be too much exposed upon any part of that road, you will halt and give me notice, to that a sufficient convoy may be sent you. I wish you to send me by the first conveyance a return of your strength and of the number and calibres of your ordnance, and the quantity of stores you have with you, or expect to be forwarded, that in case of deficiency I may make further applications.

I have the honor to be, with respect,
Your most obed't serv't,
DANIEL BRODHEAD,
Colonel Commanding.

Orders for Major Craig.

Fort Pitt, November 11, 1780.

Sir: I have received intelligence, through various channels, that the British have established a post at Lower Sandusky, and also information that it is suspected they intend erecting one at either Cuyahoga creek or Grand river. But as these acounts are not from persons of military knowledge, nor to be fully relied on in any particular, and I am anxious to have the facts well established, you will, therefore, proceed with Lieut. Rose, my Aid-de-Camp, and six active men in order to reconnoitre these places, particularly Cuyaboga. As your party is so small, you will use every possible precaution to avoid of being discovered, which service I expect you will be able to perform, as they will probably be relaxed in discipline at this advanced season of the year. When you have reconnoitred these posts (if any), you may try to take a prisoner, provided you find it can be done without much risque of losing any of your party, which must be garded against at all costs, as it is not your business to come to action. My reasons for allowing you so small a party being to avoid discovery. I know your zeal will excite you to go to lengths, perhaps even beyond your own judgment, in order to effect the purposes of your excursion. But, notwithstanding my earnest desire to obtain accurate accounts of the matters mentioned herein, you will please to keep in view that I am extremely solicitous that every man may be brought back safe, and that one man falling into the hands of the enemy, may not only ruin your whole present business, but also prevent future discoverys.

As it may become necessary for you to detach or separate from Mr. Rose, it will be proper for you to give him a certified copy of this order.

I am, sir, your obedient humble servant,

WM. IRVINE,
B. General.

Major Craig.

Gen. Washington to Capt. Craig.

Head-Quarters, New Windsor, April 25th, 1781.

Sir: I have received your favor of the 15th. The present State of Col. Proctor's Regiment does not admit of your Company's being made up to its full complement, but I have, by this conveyance, desired General St. Clair to let you have as many men as will put you on a level with the others. This is all that can be done. I have already desired the Board of War to send six Artificers to Fort Pitt; you may wait upon them yourself with this Letter, and ask three or four more if they can be spared. I would wish the enclosed for Gen'l Clarke and Col. Brodhead, to reach them as speedily as possible; you will be pleased to take charge of them yourself, if you do not meet with a good opportunity previous to the time you intend setting out.

I am, Sir, Your Humble servant,

GO WASHINGTON.

To Capt. Craig.

From a return, dated March 22, 1782, signed by Andrew Porter, major commanding Pennsylvania regiment of artillery, there were stationed at Lancaster and Carlisle, two majors, five captains, four captain leutenants, two first lieutenants, paymaster, quarter-master, surgeon, two cadets, one surgeon's mate, quarter-master sergeant, drum major, fife major, four musicians, four sergeants, three corporals, one bombardier, six gunners, seven drums and fifes, twenty-five matrosses; total, seventy. At Fort Pitt, two captains, one second lieutenant, &c.; total, thirty-four. In the Southern army, two captains four captain lieutenants, one second lieutenant, adjutant, non commissioned officers and privates, one hundred and twenty one; making total strength of the regiment two hundred and thirty-five.

The return from Fort Pitt is dated July 26, 1782; the return from the Southern army, November 10, 1781.

After the surrender of Cornwallis, three companies of the artillery were detached to the Southern army, under Gen. Greene. A return, found among the Hand papers, dated at James Island, S. C., January 31, 1783, indicates the strength of this detachment as follows:

Capt. Ferguson's company, ...	21
Brice's company, ...	14
McClure's company, ...	25

In June, 1784, when Congress called for a regiment partially infantry and artillery, Pennsylvania immediately furnished its quota, and on the 13th of August, Thomas Douglass was appointed captain, and Joseph Ashton, lieutenant of the artillery company, by the Supreme Executive Council of Pennsylvania. The following year, Capt. Thomas Douglass was dropped, and Capt. William Ferguson superseded him, October 20, 1788, apparently upon a claim of rank, (Col. Records, vol. xiv, page 559 and 621), which gives some ground for the claim made by the descendants of Major William Ferguson, that he was never out of the service of his country from the day he entered the ranks as a private of Procter's First company of Pennsylvania artillery, until as commandant of artillery of Gen. St. Clair's army, he fell by his guns in the disastrous battle of November 4, 1791.

According to Prof. Asa Bird Gardner's letter to the Editors the artillery of Lieut. Col. Harmar's "1st American Regiment was organized into a battalion by itself; in 1786, two new companies from Massachusetts added, and Capts. Douglass' or Ferguson's company is still in existence as the Second Company of Artillery of the present United States Army."
